THE VATICAN SHOWS FAITH IN AMERICA

Archbishop Ireland Says Pope Believes Example Is Worth Copying.

CATHOLICS SURE OF FAIR ACTION

Agitation of Church Societies on Question of Friars Is Without Reason.

CRITICISM OF TAFT IS DECLARED UNJUST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—Archbishop Ireland, in an interview today, reviewed the negotiations between Judge Taft and the vatican, and took to task certain Catholic organizations that had assumed to question the fairness of the administration toward their co-religionists. The archbishop said:

"The news from Rome is quite satisfactory. Private advices to me from the most reliable source confirm, in all respects, the cable news dispatches. The sovereign pontiff and other Roman authorities are delighted with Gov. Taft personally, and with the negotiations in progress between him and the vatican. Reports sent out by the correspondents of certain London papers to the effect that the pontiff was displeased with the manner of acting of the commission of cardinals appointed to treat with Gov. Taft were absolutely unfounded.

Must End in Manila.

"That the negotiations have not yet reached final conclusions, and are to be transferred from Rome to Manila, is what might have been expected from the beginning. Gov. Taft is in a hurry to return to the Philippines, and could not prolong his stay in Rome, and on the other hand, the problems to be solved are so complicated, especially from the vatican standpoint, that time in the work is necessary. The vatican and Gov. Taft came easily and quickly to a substantial agreement; the question for the vatican is what practical methods are to be adopted to put the agreement into execution. With a little time certain matters, now seeming to offer great difficulties will be made by quiet, skilful touches of pontifical diplomacy to work themselves out without friction or excitement, and so, when in Manila, final conclusions are to be reached, things will be ripe and turn out all right. This is the vatican method of proceeding. Mr. Taft understands the matter, and leaves Rome thoroughly satisfied and hopeful.

"And now it is to be hoped there will be among certain classes of Catholics in America a cessation of movements and declarations such as we have had recent occasion to hear regarding religious matters in the Philippines. The pope teaches those Catholics to trust the American government, as they seemingly have been heretofore unwilling to do.

Esteem for United States.

"In his conversation with Gov. Taft he expressed the highest esteem for American methods of treating church matters, and remarked that he had more than once pointed toward the United States as setting an example well worth copying.

"His words ought to signify something to those who profess to take him as their guide. At any rate, the direction of Catholic affairs is his business, not that of irresponsible church societies or newspaper editors; and when he informs Catholics that any one matter is in his hands, they ought promptly to step aside and allow him to have charge of it. The question of religion in the Philippines is now formally and officially his own, and it should be considered as such. A few there may be who still believe that they have a better understanding of it than he has, and will insist on telling him how to handle it, but such are few, and at least it will be clear that they hold no brief whatever from the Catholic body at large.

"The agitation, such as it was, in certain Catholic quarters did no honor to those who participated in it. As is now proven, they spoke and acted without due knowledge, and certainly without proper regard for the government of their country.

Fairness at White House.

"Never did there reside in the White House a man more fair-minded and impartial in religious matters, more resolute to give all classes of citizens the religious rights granted them by the constitution, and to protect them in those rights, than Theodore Roosevelt.

As to Mr. Taft, I quote from a letter which I received but yesterday from a Catholic priest living in the archepiscopal palace in Manila, Rev. W. D. McKinnon: "I can assure you nothing could be more unjust than the criticisms of Gov. Taft appearing in some Catholic papers. Gov. Taft has not a particle of bigotry in his makeup. In all his acts here I defy anyone to say he has shown himself prejudiced in the least."

And as to schools in the Philippines, why not, when the presence of non-Catholic teachers is talked of, state that out of a total of 5,000 teachers, 3,500 are Filipino Catholics? Why not state that Father McKinnon is a member of the school board of Manila, and why, when mention is made of non-Catholic teachers, allow the false impression to go abroad that many of these were ministers and active proselytizers? And why not remember that, by the law of the islands, clergymen who are ministers in any place of organized congregations may three times a week teach religion in the schools of the place, the condition that they be ministers of organized congregations virtually confining the privilege to the Catholic priesthood? Perhaps, ideally, something more might be desired; but the conditions within which the government is confined must be considered, and, at least, when disadvantages to the religion are quoted, the advantages that are allowed should also be set forth.

REID IS CARNEGIE'S GUEST.

American Representative to Coronation Entertained at Skibo.

LONDON, July 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid returned to London today after a tour of Scotland. Mr. Reid went by rail, meeting the remainder of his party at Skibo castle, Sutherland, the seat of Andrew Carnegie, to which they had journeyed from London in an automobile.

Mr. Carnegie, who is in excellent health, invited a large house party to meet Mr. and Mrs. Reid, and on their departure he drove them 10 miles to the railroad station in the four-in-hand coach with which the late James G. Blaine made his tour of Scotland.

BYERS DECLARES HE CAN DELIVER MISSING BONDS

Greensburg Attorney Surprises Lawyer for Prosecution.

FURNISHES BAIL ON $250,000 BOND

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Greensburg, Pa., July 22.—The statement of Attorney William S. Byers, now under arrest and charged with the theft of nearly a quarter of a million dollars' worth of bonds and money from Jacob Byers, his grand-uncle, that he knew where the bonds and money were located and that they would be released were the aged relative to prove conclusively that he had a legal right to them, has created a new sensation and amazed the attorneys for the prosecution, who believed that the attorney would simply make a sweeping denial that he knew anything of the case.

Since the arrest of the attorney some persons here advance the idea that the attorney has a surprise in store for the prosecution. Mr. Byers will not speak of his plans, further than to say that he knows the whereabouts of the bonds and money, and that they are in perfectly safe hands.

A rumor is to the effect that the papers were duly transferred to the lawyer, and that the act has simply slipped the memory of his aged relative. As an instance of Mr. Byers' forgetfulness the checks by which $38,000 was drawn from the bank are cited by the defense. Old Mr. Byers says he has no knowledge of signing such checks. It is said that the checks can be produced when they are required. The defense laughs at the claim that the old man did not place his signature to them.

Attorney Byers has been the local advisor of Jacob Byers for a long time, and, as his attorney, has conducted important litigation with remarkable success for the old gentleman. The attorney has no hesitancy in declaring that some unwholesome influence has been brought to bear on the old man.

It was a strange experience for the attorney to have a village constable carrying a bail bond of $250,000, as a companion and roommate last night, but this morning he was made happy when his telephone calls last night to various stations in the county resulted in the appearance of seven of the wealthiest men to be found in the neighborhood at his office. They had come prepared to sign the bond, regardless of the amount. They were John Husband and E. M. Husband, lumber dealers of Mt. Pleasant; John Allshouse, a farmer, of Adamsburg; Thomas H. Steel, of Pleasant Unity; William Feiger, of Scottdale; W. F. Byers, an uncle, of Tarrs Station, and John S. Byers, father of the accused, of Greensburg. Each signed the bond, and they were qualified by Justice J. F. Elcher of this town. The attorney waived a hearing. He says he will fight to a finish.

Old Mr. Byers is improving in health.

GATES' LATEST PLUNGE.

Announces His Intention of Buying in Open Market Control of Alton Railroad.

NEW YORK, July 22.—(Special.)—Fresh from the success or otherwise of his corner in corn, John W. Gates has overturned Wall street ideals by announcing his intention of acquiring control of the Chicago & Alton railroad in the open market. Mr. Gates entered the offices of interests identified with the Alton last week, and in an off-hand manner said:

"I want to negotiate for the control of the Alton. It's a great property."

When the interests mentioned recovered their breath, they remarked: "Alton has $20,000,000 common stock and $20,000,000 preferred, and there are $34,000,000 of bonds. The control is distributed; we cannot deliver it."

"All right," said Mr. Gates; "then I will buy it in the open market."

The first movement in Alton, it is said, disclosed to Mr. Gates that the control of Alton probably was for sale. On the sharp uprush of the price, long stock came bundling out, but that did not dismay him, and the statement was repeated today that Alton is going very much higher, and is to be bought in the open market.

WILL SPOIL HARMONY DEAL.

Independents Ready to Start Window Glass Factories September 1.

It was officially stated yesterday in behalf of the Independent Glass Company that instructions have gone out to the 28 window glass factories of the company to be ready to blow glass on September 1, and that a number of them have replied saying that they will light the fires on August 9 or 11.

This will handicap the harmony deal by which the American Window Glass Company has undertaken to arrange a later start.

It was also asserted officially for the Independent Glass Company that during the last fire the Independent Glass Company, with its 28 factories, produced more glass than the American Window Glass Company with twice the "paper" capacity.

SCHOOL RIOTS IN FRANCE.

Francois Coppee Among the Speakers Who Were Arrested.

PARIS, July 22.—After the distribution of prizes at a school belonging to an unauthorized congregation in the Avenue Parmentier here today violent speeches were made to the assembled crowds, denouncing the government's action in closing the establishments of unauthorized congregations.

Fighting ensued, the crowds breaking through the police cordon and shouting "Vive la liberte!" Francois Coppee, the author and poet, who was the chief speaker; Deputy Lerolle, Gaston Merry and the Abbe Partural were arrested. Further disturbances and some arrests have occurred in other places.

VANDERBILT UPSETS.

His Automobile Overturns a French-woman and Her Cart.

PARIS, July 22.—(Copyright, Cable.)—W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., while trying a new Renault-Voiturette on the Chartres road amid blinding dust caused by a friend's big automobile, he collided with a cart driven by a woman.

Both vehicles overturned. Mr. Vanderbilt and the woman being slightly hurt. A few banknotes saved the woman's bruises.

ALL BARRIERS BROKEN DOWN BY PRISONER

HE FORCED OPEN IRON JAIL DOOR

Crawford Sarver at Liberty After Supreme Effort of Policeman.

WANTED FOR ATTACK UPON HIS BROTHER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monessen, Pa., July 22.—Crawford Sarver, the man who made a murderous attack upon his brother, Policeman John Sarver, at Monongahela on Monday with a razor, and whom the Washington county borough authorities have been hunting high and low for 24 hours, was arrested here today by Chief of Police D. W. G. Cooper, but not until the latter had one of the roughest experiences of his career as a borough official. Sarver again escaped and has not yet been recaptured.

Immediately following his attack upon his brother Sarver made his escape and came over into Westmoreland county. His love for drink brought him to the Hotel Myford, where he imbibed very freely, and at last became troublesome, bragging about his crime. The news of the assault had preceded the fugitive here, and persons knowing he was wanted for the crime conveyed the news of his whereabouts to the chief of police.

Made an Ugly Fight.

Mr. Cooper went to Myford's place, and going up to Sarver, tried to persuade him to go along peaceably. This, however, he would not do, and then the trouble began. Officer Cooper, a powerful man, managed to slip the nippers upon the wrist of his giant antagonist and endeavored to remove him to the borough jail. The two men clinched and it was a long drawn out fight over every inch of the way to the prison door.

At the door of the prison the chief removed the nippers from his prisoner's wrists and the latter resumed the attack on the chief. In the mix-up Cooper dropped his mace and his antagonist got possession of it and was about to carry out his threat of killing the officer, when a by-stander came to the chief's rescue, and the two grappled with him. Sarver was finally locked up. Cooper's assistant received a vicious blow over the head.

Having finally landed the prisoner behind the heavy iron doors the crowd was dispersed and the Monongahela authorities notified of the arrest. Sarver, however, was not to be deprived of his liberty. About 2 o'clock, when the excitement had subsided, the man brought his giant strength into play, and after a mighty effort the iron bars which held him prisoner were burst asunder and he made his way along the corridor of the prison to the huge oak door leading into the street. A plate glass over this door was the only obstacle between him and his freedom, and with a large club he broke this into pieces and jumped up over the door and out into the street.

A Fugitive in the Country.

Several minutes passed before the escape was known, and as Sarver had taken the river hill route, he had a good start before Officers Woolsey and Laird knew of what had happened. These two officers, accompanied by a crowd of excited citizens, started in pursuit. Sarver had completely evaded the officers. From here he headed toward Bellevernon, endeavoring to reach Fayette county. He lost his bearings, however, and came down to the river at Rostraver, where he crossed the ferry into the village of Lock No. 4.

Officers Woolsey and Laird were hot on the trail, but at no time were they able to get a glimpse of the fugitive, and were only able to follow him by information received from the farmers along the way. When Sarver reached Washington county he started toward Monongahela, over the Pittsburgh & Charleroi street railway tracks, but was forced back on account of a number of workmen being employed along the line, and he was presumably afraid of being attacked. He retraced his steps back toward Lock No. 4 and then took across the country toward Monongahela, where late tonight he is supposed to be hiding.

The entire county is stirred up over the report that Sarver had killed one of the officers of Monessen in a pitched battle, and as a consequence the wires all over this section have been kept busy all afternoon and tonight. This rumor, of course, is false. The Washington county authorities have now taken up the hunt, and Sarver will be doubtless captured before morning.

TROUBLE AT CORKS RUN.

Another Outbreak of the Daly-Dugan Feud Gets Everybody in Court.

The Daly-Dugan feud has broken out again at Corks run, and the Dugans are all under arrest. It is alleged that on Sunday night, when there was a chistening at the Dugans, some one cried "Murder." Mrs. Daly ran over to see who was getting killed, and Daly followed her. Then some one jumped on the Dalys, and there was a fight.

The Dalys say that the whole Dugan gang jumped on them, and they will make them prove that they did not at a hearing tonight before a 'squire.

Wireless Message for Mackay's Son.

LONDON, July 22.—The Cunard line steamer Saxonia, sailing from Liverpool for Boston, today has a wireless telegram for Clarence H. Mackay, son of the late John W. Mackay, who sailed from New York Saturday, July 19, on the Campania. The remains of Mr. Mackay have been embalmed and placed in a metallic coffin.

Ohio Legislature to Meet.

COLUMBUS, O., July 22.—Gov. Nash issued a proclamation this morning convening the legislature in special session August 25. The principal objects are to provide for the government of municipalities—the supreme court having set aside existing laws—and to repeal the Rover act, almost wholly depriving the supreme court of jurisdiction.

MAY YOHE GETS HER JEWELS AND STRONG IS SAFE

It Cost the Captain's Mother a Fortune to Rescue Her Son.

ACTRESS STILL WEARS HER LOVER'S LOCKET

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 22.—May Yohe is again in possession of a large part of her diamonds. She has been or will be amply reimbursed for the others, and Putnam Bradlee Strong is safe from arrest. It has cost Mrs. William L. Strong, mother of the young man, a fortune to save her boy from possible imprisonment.

Mrs. Strong today paid $16,000 for the redemption of the Yohe diamonds, and about $80,000 more will be paid by her unless her son restores jewels still unaccounted for. Of the $16,100, $7,100 was to redeem jewels pawned in this city worth $50,000. In Yokohama $8,000 will be used for the redemption of gems worth $20,000 and $1,000 will redeem others pawned at Genoa and worth $5,000. The money will be cabled to Yokohama and Genoa at once.

This action accounts for $75,000 worth of the jewelry, and it is estimated that $80,000 worth more must be accounted for, as it is conceded May Yohe had over $150,000 in gems. The relatives of Strong have agreed to advance the $80,000 additional, and this, together with incidental expenses, will bring the sum to save Strong close to $100,000.

No Haggling Over Terms.

Mrs. Strong, her health so shattered that she may never recover, is happy in the thought that she has saved her son. She refused to permit counsel to wrangle over details. She was in a tremor of fear until she knew that the charges against her son had been withdrawn.

Still insisting that she is guit of Strong forever, and that she will never forgive him for the wrong he has done her, May Yohe has withdrawn the complaint against him made by her when she found that his last visit to her jewel casket had left it empty. Declaring that she hopes never to look again upon the face of Strong, who, she believes, has started for Yokohama, Miss Yohe announces her intention of sailing for the far east in the near future. Expressing a desire to rid herself of everything that can remind her of her life with the man she accuses of having robbed her, she keeps his miniature in the locket which she wears just over her heart. His top coat remains where he hung it on the hat stand, and his stick is in the hall corner of the cottage at Hastings-on-the-Hudson.

Terms of settlement were arranged today between the Strong family and Miss Yohe by their respective counsel, Job E. Hedges and Emanuel Friend.

Restoration of the Jewels.

An attempt was made to preserve absolute secrecy regarding the matter, but it was learned from an authoritative source that fully $50,000 worth of her jewels have been restored to Miss Yohe; she is assured of the return in the near future of jewels worth about $80,000 more, and, finally, a monetary consideration has been agreed upon if it is found to be impossible to place in her possession the remainder of her valuables which were taken from the safety vaults of the Knickerbocker Trust Company.

Having in his possession a written confession signed by Strong, who has fully admitted his errors, Mr. Friend resents the imputation that a successful "strike" was made or that his client made the first overtures for a settlement.

Perhaps the most disgusted of all who have had any part in this incident are the police of New York. They refused to interest themselves in the affairs of Strong and Yohe until a complaint was made and Strong stood charged with grand larceny. Then they began a vigorous search for him, only to be called off just at a time when they felt certain of bringing about his arrest. Capt. Titus was so confident

DRIVEN TO STREET IN NIGHT CLOTHES BY AN EARTHQUAKE

Kingstown, Near La Soufriere Volcano, Thrown Into a Panic by the Shocks.

IN FEAR OF TIDAL WAVE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by New York Herald Co.)

Port of Spain, Trinidad, July 22.—A severe earthquake shock was felt in Kingston, island of St. Vincent, at 1:15 o'clock yesterday morning.

There was great consternation among the residents, who fled in terror to the streets. Many appeared in their night clothes. Most of the residents remained in the streets until daybreak.

Several buildings were damaged by the shock. They are being torn down to prevent accidents.

Great anxiety now prevails among the Kingstown residents. There are fears of greater shocks and of a tidal wave. The disturbances appear to be confined to Kingstown and the vicinity.

The town was alarmed on July 17, when one severe and two slight earthquakes were felt between 9:50 in the morning and 12:20 in the afternoon. A few buildings were cracked. Business was suspended for about an hour.

CONTRACTS LET FOR DECORATING CAPITOL

Artists Selected to Supply Paintings and Sculpture for New State Building.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, July 22.—The capitol building commission will expend $150,000 for mural paintings and $300,000 for sculpture in the new capitol. The mural paintings will be done by Edwin A. Abbey, who is now in London to paint a picture of King Edward's coronation. George Gray Barnard will be the sculptor. Miss Oakley will decorate a room to be designated by Architect Josephine M. Huston.

Contracts were awarded to these artists by the commission this afternoon. It will require years to complete their work, and it is expected that they will begin immediately. Mr. Barnard expects to make 40 or 50 statues, all heroic in size. All will be marble, except the bronze group before the base of the dome to represent "The Apotheosis of Labor."

This probably will be the largest bronze group in the world, and will cost $85,000 to cast. It will contain three immense horses, to the right of which will be a sower with his sack, and to the left a group of laborers with farm implements. Supporting the architectrave below the apotheosis will stand four groups of two figures each to represent four classes of laborers of Pennsylvania—the miner, the woodman, the ironworker and probably the glassblower.

Mr. Barnard also may model four small pedestals from 10 to 15 feet in height to be placed at each of the four corners of Capitol park. They will be capped by groups in bronze of the wild animals of Pennsylvania.

The commission went over the plans and specifications with Mr. Huston at today's meeting and concluded not to advertise for bids for the erection of the building until after its meeting August 5.

PICKING AT THE WABASH.

B. & O. Will Take Heavy Business From Western Maryland and Suit Will Be One Result.

BALTIMORE, MD., July 22.—(Special.)—A big lawsuit is expected to follow the proposed diversion of traffic from the Western Maryland railroad by the Baltimore & Ohio. About 70 per cent of the net profits of the Western Maryland comes from the exchange business between the Baltimore & Ohio and the Reading handled over the Western Maryland from Cherry Run. This amounted in 1901 to $60,000.

The Baltimore & Ohio, controlled by the Pennsylvania, will exchange its Reading freight over the Cumberland Valley, a Pennsylvania line, from Marshburg. There is, however, a contract between the Reading, Western Maryland and Baltimore & Ohio in regard to this exchange which will be the basis of the coming suit. The purpose of the Baltimore & Ohio is to take business from the Western Maryland on account of the Wabash having gained control.

SIBLEY TELLS THE VAGARIES OF HIS SISTER

Proud of Her on Visit to Washington During Lucid Interval.

MRS. MILLER ALSO TAKES THE STAND

HUSBAND DEBARRED FROM BEING WITNESS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Franklin, Pa., July 22.—The spectacle of a man testifying against his sister and the woman testifying in her own behalf was presented in the lunacy proceedings against Mrs. Charles Miller today. The brother was the Hon. Joseph C. Sibley, congressman from the Twenty-seventh Pennsylvania district. Mr. Sibley has been at his summer home at Valcour, N. Y., and came here upon being subpoenaed by counsel for Gen. Miller. The witness in his testimony spoke in the most endearing terms of his sister, and his statement that in his opinion she was of unsound mind came with apparent reluctance. His manner indicated that he gave his testimony against his sister because he thought it his duty.

While Mr. Sibley gave his testimony his sister stood not six feet from him. She looked pleased when her brother spoke kindly of her and did not frown at his unfavorable testimony, as she has done with the other witnesses. When the witness seemed confused with regard to dates Mrs. Miller would utter the dates almost inaudibly, and once when Mr. Sibley stated that he was four years younger than his sister, Mrs. Miller promptly said aloud in a quick, sharp tone, "Three years and a half."

Mrs. Miller Is Cool.

Mrs. Miller frequently prompted her counsel during the cross-examination. She was very cool on the stand and answered all the questions of her counsel promptly and intelligently. Counsel for Gen. Miller waived the privilege of cross-examination for the present.

Perhaps the next important event of the day was the ruling of Commissioner Hughes that Gen. Miller was not a competent witness, being the husband of the alleged lunatic. Gen. Miller, who was subpoenaed by the other side, before being called to the stand against his wife, left the witness stand very willingly. Mrs. Miller's counsel intimated that they would call Gen. Miller to testify for them, but the general's counsel say that if he cannot serve as a witness on one side he certainly cannot serve on the other.

The first witness called this morning was Dr. F. H. Johnston, Gen. Miller's private secretary, who was on the stand yesterday. Dr. Johnston said that he based his opinion of Mrs. Miller's condition of mind on knowledge gained through business and social relations. He said he had made two trips with the family in special cars.

Incident in the West.

He detailed an incident occurring on one of these trips, where Mrs. Miller at San Francisco absolutely refused to meet a number of Gen. Miller's intimate friends who came to call on them. The witness said Mrs. Miller had become an expert on how to annoy Gen. Miller; that one time during his illness she kept the servants from waiting on him. Dr. Johnston said he had been on the most intimate terms with Gen. Miller, and that he knew Mrs. Miller had no more reason to be jealous of the general than his wife (the witness' wife) had to be jealous of him.

Dr. Johnston said he knew of one instance where Mrs. Miller and her daughter, Mrs. Samuel A. Megeath, had a quarrel over a child's dress, which ended in Mrs. Miller driving Mrs. Megeath from the house. He also knew of her driving servants out of the house.

Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, Mrs. Miller's brother, testified that he was aware that there was a strain of insanity in the Sibley family; that two of his parental uncles and two of his maternal uncles and one of his maternal grandparents had been insane, and that two of the four uncles had committed suicide. One of his uncles went insane over religion.

Religion Her Weakness.

This, Mr. Sibley said, was Mrs. Miller's weakness, and that he had not known of a religious revival in Franklin in 27 years that did not have the effect of unbalancing his sister's mind. For this reason he had always discouraged revival meetings in her church, the Baptist. Mrs. Miller's home conduct, he said, was very variable; at times she would be a most loving and affectionate wife and mother, while at others she was most disagreeable, particularly to wards Gen. Miller. He said he had noticed a great change for the better in her condition during the past 12 months. Last winter Mrs. Miller paid him and Mrs. Sibley a visit at Washington, and Mrs. Miller received at a social function his wife gave. He was very proud of her on this occasion. Before she left Washington, however, he observed evidences of her unbalanced mind.

The witness said that while in Washington he received a number of letters from his sister, some of which were very tender and affectionate, while others contained nothing but complaints of the conduct of Gen. Miller toward other women. The latter, Mr. Sibley said, were so unpleasant that he would destroy them before finishing. When he received one of these letters he advised Gen. Miller's private secretary to instruct the nurses attending Mrs. Miller to tighten the restraints about Mrs. Miller. At this time Gen. Miller was in Mexico.

Rational in Some Things.

Mr. Sibley paid a very pretty compliment to his sister's ability in some respects, and said that she was perfectly rational in many matters, but in his opinion she was not mentally capable of taking care of herself and her property.

Charles A. Miller, nephew of Gen. Miller, who for a time made his home with his uncle, testified that on different occasions Mrs. Miller told him stories of Gen. Miller's unfaithfulness; that at another time Mrs. Miller accused the witness of conspiring with the nurses and

DYNAMITE WAS PURCHASED ON DUQUESNE WAY

OFFICERS ARE CLOSE TO THE GUILTY MAN

It was learned yesterday where the dynamite was bought with which an attempt was made on Monday morning to destroy the grocery store of James J. McCann at No. 5102 Liberty avenue. The dynamite was to be used for the purpose of exploding a barrel of oil, so that it would send a shower of fire over the cellar, setting the entire lower portion of the building on fire. Instantly the store and flat would have collapsed and been wrapped in flames. Fortunately the dynamite did not explode, though some powder did.

At the establishment of the Kirk Powder Company in Duquesne way two sales of six sticks each are recorded in the day journals of the company. On June 15 a man representing himself as George Smith called and said he wanted some dynamite to blow up a pile of scrap iron in Allegheny. Six sticks were sold to him.

Second Man Gave Name of Jones.

On July 2 a man representing himself to be R. C. Jones went to the Kirk establishment and asked for six sticks of dynamite to blow up stumps. He said he was a farmer and lived in the suburbs. The dynamite was wrapped up and given to him. There was a strange air about this man. He seemed anxious to hurry away.

The clerk who sold him the explosives said that he did not resemble a farmer, but would have been more readily taken for a clerk in a small store. His hands were not sunburned and the clerk noticed that they were not even calloused as in the cases of laboring men.

When Manager Job Burton, for the Kirk Powder Company, called at McCann's store, where the explosion took place, he immediately identified the sticks of dynamite found as having been bought in the Kirk establishment. Whether or not they are a part of the six sticks that were bought on June 15 or July 2 could not be ascertained by him. He was positive, however, that they were sold on one of those occasions.

These are the only two small sales that have been made in the establishment for many months. The only previous small sale was made in February, and the purchaser is known to the firm. The clerk who made the sales on June 15 and July 2 says he can identify both men if he sees them again.

Fiend Had Access to Flats.

That the person who placed the dynamite in the cellar had access to the flat is demonstrated by the following facts: The person entered the cellar by the door leading from the store. When he entered the cellar he either unlocked the door with a key or the door was left unlocked. McCann says the door was locked. It is positive that the door was not forced open. There are no marks on it to indicate force.

After setting fire to the fuse the person quickly left the cellar through the same door. When the firemen arrived on the scene Monday morning they were compelled to break the doors to effect entrance to the cellar. Only five persons had access to the keys and the store. They were all about the premises on Sunday evening.

There are 19 persons residing in these flats and all were there when the small explosion took place. It is evident that the fiend had no knowledge of the power of the explosives he intended to use.

Dynamite's Awful Possibilities.

Joseph Burton said there was enough dynamite on the oil barrel to have crumbled the walls and floors of the building. Every person sleeping in the house would have been burned or crushed

Gen. Miller to place her in an insane asylum. She called at his office one day and abused him in such a manner that three of the clerks left the office.

Just before the time for the noon adjournment, Gen. Miller was called to the stand. Counsel for Mrs. Miller objected to his testifying, on the ground that he was the husband of Mrs. Miller, and for that reason could not testify against his wife. Commissioner Hughes reserved his decision until the afternoon, then ruled that the general was incompetent.

Counsel for Gen. Miller offered in evidence a letter written by Mrs. Sibley to Gen. Miller's private secretary, during Gen. Miller's absence, in which Mr. Sibley gave instructions to have Mrs. Miller placed under close surveillance, to allow her to talk to no one outside the family, to go on no trips and not to use the telephone unless to talk to some member of the family. With this the case on the side of the petitioner was closed.

Opening for the Defense.

John O. McCalmont, for Mrs. Miller, made the opening address, in which he stated that he expected to show that Mrs. Miller was at present of sane mind.

Mrs. Miller was the first witness called. Counsel for Gen. Miller objected to her as incompetent on the same grounds on which Gen. Miller was barred from testifying. Commissioner Hughes at first said that he would allow Mrs. Miller to be questioned only by the jurors, but afterward changed his ruling and stated that she should be allowed to testify in the usual manner.

The witness said she was 56 years of age and resided here since 1866. She testified that while she and her husband had misunderstandings, their home life, generally speaking, was happy. She said her mental condition varied with her physical state; that often during physical illness she would be miserable mentally. Once after the birth of one of her children, she said, she suffered an attack of mental depression, during which she imagined that she had committed some great sin. Again about two years ago she was ill and suffered intensely.

"I could not sleep, and for three weeks my mind was a blank," said Mrs. Miller. "I was told after I recovered that I had been attended by Dr. Wagner, but I can remember nothing of it."

Attacks Her Nurses.

Mrs. Miller testified that she suffered the severest indignities at the hands of her nurses, Miss Sibley and Miss Gordon. She said that she was sent to bed at 9 o'clock and her door was tied with ropes to prevent her escape. One night she told Miss Gordon that she desired to kiss her husband good night, but the nurse refused to call Gen. Miller. The latter heard Mrs. Miller call and started for her room, but the nurse shut the door in his face. At another time she wanted some hot water and asked the butler for it. That individual refused to give it to her without Miss Gordon's instructions, whereupon Mrs. Miller said she would do without it. A little later Miss Gordon brought the water, but grasped Mrs. Miller by the arm and pinched her for her "impudence." Mrs. Miller said she carried the scars of the pinching for several days. Finally, about three weeks ago, Mrs. Miller escaped from her room and has been back at the house only once since.

Dr. W. A. Nicholson of Franklin was the next witness. He said he had attended Mrs. Miller for years; that about two years ago she was mentally unbalanced and he went with her to Atlantic City. After a stay of 10 days they returned and Mrs. Miller was not much improved. However, since that time she had improved steadily and at the present time was mentally sound.

On cross-examination Dr. Nicholson stated that considering the fact that there was a strain of insanity in the Sibley family, and the further fact that Mrs. Miller had been insane at one time, there was a strong probability that the attack would recur under certain conditions. He said Mrs. Miller should have the same care and attention that an invalid should have.

The inquisition will probably last two or three days.

DISPUTE IS STILL ON.

New Ordinance Officer of Homestead Has Troubles Just as His Predecessor Had.

David Hutchinson was yesterday sworn in as ordinance officer of Homestead to succeed William Schwartz, who resigned several months ago because, as he said, he had too many bosses.

Hutchinson received seven of the 13 votes cast and claims an election. The president of council says he is elected, his friends say so and an attorney says he is, but there are many members of council who say he is not.

The borough clerk says that Hutchinson is not ordinance officer and so does the police committee, from whom he also takes orders. The result of it is that Hutchinson is not recognized by the people who have the handling of the finances of the borough, and he has been notified that he will not be paid if he serves.

COL. J. M. GUFFEY EXPECTED TO GET CAMPAIGN COIN

Is Put at Head of County Democracy's Finance Committee.

AMOUNT WANTED, $25,000

No Doubt in Minds of Faithful That Col. Guffey Will Do His Part. Meeting of the Campaign Committee Yesterday.

Members of the Allegheny county Democracy's finance committee must raise $25,000 for expenses in the coming campaign. This was the ultimatum given yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Democratic campaign committee.

Samuel J. Graham, chairman of the committee of five, presided, and the other members present were: William J. Brennen, Casper Mayer, Charles F. Abbott and John F. O'Toole.

County Chairman Thomas B. Alcorn, Secretary Marion H. Murphy, George H. Stengel, J. J. Miller, James A. Clark and Francis X. Barr met with the committee. The conference lasted for two hours.

After the meeting Chairman Graham said: "The outlook for a sweeping Democratic victory this fall is the best that could be expected. The Democrats will organize in every district, just as the Citizens party has done, and by September 1 every voting precinct in the county will be thoroughly organized."

The principal business done yesterday was the appointment of the finance committee. This committee was revised by County Chairman Alcorn and several new members added to it. The committee now numbers 142 members, and Col. James M. Guffey, as a matter of course, is the chairman.

One man who is interested said: "The selection of Col. Guffey for chairman of the finance committee signifies that the amount specified, $25,000, for campaign expenses, will undoubtedly be raised, and that there will be no deficit in the fund at the active opening of the campaign by September 1."

It is the intention of the campaign committee to secure a number of prominent Democratic politicians to stump the county.

County Chairman Alcorn said that the meeting did not discuss the rumor which has been in circulation in Pittsburgh for a few days that Pattison and Guthrie would head a new ticket, to be followed by the organization candidates for county offices. Every politician who attended the meeting refused to say anything for publication on the story.

The campaign committee has yet four other committees to complete, law, registration, taxes and speakers. These committees have been completed with the exception of selecting the chairmen and adding additional names.

At the meeting of the campaign committee next Friday afternoon these committees will be announced and other important business is scheduled to be transacted.

MRS. HARRY WATTS USED HER WHIP ON BREEDON

Lively Episode in Carnegie Last Saturday Made Much Talk and Suits Are Threatened.

All Carnegie is talking of the horse-whipping one of the town's solid men got last Saturday. No arrests have been made, but the man who was lashed has placed his case with his attorneys and refuses to talk.

The men at the Superior mill in the west end of Carnegie had just knocked off work and were about to cross the Superior bridge over the creek when they saw the superintendent of the Dunlop granite-ware works, Henry Breedon, crossing ahead of them. They saw an ordinary-sized woman, Mrs. Harry Watts, approach Breedon, and then they saw the flash of a blacksnake whip, which Mrs. Watts applied to the upper part of Breedon's body. Breedon ran, followed by Mrs. Watts.

Mrs. Watts is the wife of the former foreman of the tool room at the Dunlop factory, and the blacksnake was used, she says, because of calumniating remarks by Breedon concerning her sister, Ella Smith.

Ella Smith told a reporter last night that Breedon called her into the office of the Dunlop company one day—she was employed there as bookkeeper in the enameling room—and told her that there existed a picture for which he would give $500. This photograph, Ella Smith says he said, pictured her and her sister, Mrs. Watts, in a remarkable pose.

Ella Smith was very angry and told her sister about Breedon's statement. Breedon later, she says, denied that he had included her sister in the alleged picture, but stuck to his assertion that a man had told him that he had seen a shocking photograph of Ella Smith. She instructed her attorney, John A. Murphy, to bring suit against Breedon for slander, and she has been assured, she says, that Breedon is under bond to answer the charge.

Mrs. Watts on last Saturday morning purchased a rawhide whip and stationed herself at the end of the Superior bridge. Presently she saw Breedon approaching with Harry Dash and Harry Martin, employes of the granite-ware works, on either side of him. Mrs. Watts met the party and struck Breedon about the body. "What does this mean?" inquired the superintendent very solicitously. Then she hit him again. Harry Dash saw there was trouble and sprinted away. "Run, Breedon, run!" Martin shouted, and the superintendent obeyed.

"Breedon is fleshy," said Mrs. Watts, "and at least 50 years old, and I kept up with him at the start and hit him several times. But my dress held me back. At the end of the bridge he turned from the direction that would take him through town and ran toward Fort Pitt." Martin, Mrs. Watts further said, trotted slightly ahead of Breedon on the side where licks from the whip could not reach him, and occasionally, as Mrs. Watts gained on the fleeing man and rained blows, Martin, Mrs. Watts says, would jog Breedon on the elbow and urge him to faster motion. Martin made the pace and Breedon stuck to his heels so that after Mrs. Watts had chased them four blocks her wind gave out and she returned home.

"I understand that Breedon has a cut on his neck and one on his head. I did my best to avoid hitting him about the face, not that he did not deserve it, but because I respected his age," said Mrs. Watts.

East End Woman Hurt.

Shortly after last midnight Mrs. C. M. Gibson of No. 1519 Maryland avenue, East end, was thrown from an East Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg car at Edgewood. Her left shoulder was fractured and her head badly lacerated. After being restored to consciousness she was removed to her home.

STORM OF PROTEST FROM ALL QUARTERS

HILL TOP CITIZENS ARE DEMANDING BETER WATER SUPPLY.

Board of Trade, Spurned on by Indignant Housewives, Will Take Testimony and Lay Plain Facts Before Councils at Early Date.

At a special meeting last night of the hilltop board of trade it was decided to make a determined effort to have the water conditions of the hilltop boroughs and the South Side districts remedied.

A special committee will be announced today by President M. B. Layton. This committee is empowered to secure counsel, take testimony concerning the water supply, and call an indignation meeting of the citizens of the hilltops. The hilltop and South Side wards will then memorialize councils on the subject and produce the testimony the committee is to secure.

This decisive action has been brought about by the apparent uselessness of appealing to the Monongahela Water Company and the Chartiers Water Company, which supply the South Side and the hilltops. For the last month or more, it was stated in the meeting last night, the water supply has been cut off every other day without warning. When the companies have been appealed to, they have invariably replied that they could not better conditions at present. A. H. Gilmore, a member of the board, made this statement:

"On both July 4 and 5 the water supply was cut off in my house without warning. It has been so every other day for a month. Yesterday the women prepared to wash and they had scarcely started to do so when the water was turned off. Still the water company presents its bills."

Nearly every member present had a similar tale to relate and dozens of petitions came to the board from all parts of the South Side wards and hilltop boroughs.

It is claimed that both companies are charging rates not in accordance with the contracts. The contract was that the Monongahela company should supply the South Side and hilltop wards at city rates. Since that time the city rates have been reduced, and, according to statements made last night, the Monongahela company holds its subscribers to the ancient rates.

Broommakers Claim That Prison Law Is Being Violated at Riverside.

Pittsburgh local, No. 44, of the International Broommakers' union was in session till near midnight considering the advisability of bringing suit against the commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the prison board of the Western Penitentiary for violation of the Muehlbronner prison labor law. Action was deferred pending co-operation of the United Labor League of Western Pennsylvania, the Iron City council of the American Federation of Labor and the matmakers' organization.

It is said that mat-trimming machines have been introduced into the prison and that broom manufacturing interests send their broomcorn to the prison to be worked.

H. C. Marburger, vice president of the Pittsburgh broommakers' union, said last night that there are 35,000 makers of brooms in the prisons of the country and 32,000 outside. "If the prison authorities can use machinery to cut the mats," said he, "why can't they use machines for sewing the brooms?"

The Pittsburgh broommakers will have another special meeting soon to consider the matter. The officers of the organization say that they cannot secure permits to enter the working departments of the prison.

READY FOR BATTLE.

Jeffries and Fitzsimmons Have Finished Their Heavy Work. Graney in the Ring.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—Jeffries finished his hard training today. He boxed eight fast rounds before a large gathering of men at Oakland. During the bout he nearly knocked Kennedy out, and the latter retaliated by landing a heavy right on Jeffries' nose, drawing blood. Eddie Graney, the referee of the big contest, was in the ring and gave a practical demonstration of how he would act toward the contestants.

Fitzsimmons took a short jaunt through the park this morning and boxed at the Olympia club in the afternoon. He sparred with two clever amateurs and wound up by going three fast rounds with Hank Griffin. Fitzsimmons will confine his work for the next three days to light gymnasium work. Both men are ready to enter the ring.

CHICAGO, July 22.—There will be no more cheap excursions for the present from Chicago and St. Louis to New York and Atlantic City. At a special meeting of the Central Passenger Association today it was agreed to restore normal conditions.

JAMES JOHNSON ENDS BUSY LIFE

FOR FIFTY YEARS HE WAS A COLLEGE VENDER AT PRINCETON.

Fled from Maryland in Slavery Days and His Freedom Was Bought for Him. He Worked Hard to Pay His Benefactress.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PRINCETON, N. J., July 22.—James Johnson, for fifty years college vender, died here this morning. He was born in Easton, Maryland, October 2, 1815, and became the slave of Teakle Wallace at the age of 15, but ran away and came to Princeton, where he was discovered and the sheriff came after him.

After trial Johnson was turned over to the sheriff, but Miss Provost, a lineal descendant of President Witherspoon, bought his freedom for $550. He afterward worked in the university and reimbursed Miss Provost.

Johnson was a prominent character in the university for fifty years and carried the receipt from his benefactress up to the time of his death. He was a liberal subscriber to the new gymnasium fund. He will be buried on Thursday from the Presbyterian church.

to death had the incendiary plan materialized. This being the situation the supposed incendiary, not knowing the probable effects of the awful train he had laid, or else being abnormally foolhardy, is believed to have remained in the building. The patrolman who was on the beat says that no one left the building for at least 10 minutes before the powder explosion took place. The person who lighted the fuse made careful preparation to escape. The ashes of the burned fuse were not disturbed by the explosion of powder in the barrel. From the traces of the ashes, it is evident that the fuse was 48 inches long. This would have given the suspect an opportunity to reach any part of the house before the explosion took place.

Detectives are working on the case but refuse to discuss the mystery of the explosion at this time. Fire Marshal W. D. McGill is also investigating and expects some important developments in a few days.

OIL FIELD DISCOVERED.

Pittsburgh Firm Brings in Two Good Wells in Ohio.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., July 22.—There is great excitement in Belmont county today over the discovery of a new oil field at Uniontown, six miles from here. Last night a well was brought in yielding 28 barrels, and today a second well was struck, and it is estimated that it will yield 10 barrels a day.

The well is owned by Drosier & Co., of Pittsburgh, and other Pittsburgh parties are here trying to lease land.

Black Replies to Criticism.

Mayor Robert J. Black of McKeesport, in reply to the attack made on him Monday night by James Evans, president of the McKeesport National bank and president of the citizens' committee appointed to raise $20,000 to secure the new tube mills for McKeesport, said that Evans' criticism was only the result of his opposition to the United States Steel Corporation during the strike last summer, and that events since have proved that his course was the best for the citizens of McKeesport.

John Biernesser's Body.

The body of John Biernesser of Sharpsburg, missing since July 13, was found yesterday in the Allegheny river near Millvale. Biernesser was ill with typhoid fever and while delirious left his boarding house. It is believed that he went immediately to the river and threw himself in. He was a teamster, 38 years old.

LEDOCHOWSKI DIES IN ROME FROM PARALYSIS

Prefect of the Congregation of the Propaganda Passes Away.

CAMPAIGN FOR SUCCESSOR

Several Cardinals Are Candidates for the Vacancy—Francis Satolli Is Considered Available for the Position—Pope Expresses Sorrow.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, July 22.—Cardinal Ledochowski, prefect of the Congregation of the Propaganda of the Roman church, died this morning after a long illness. Cardinal Ledochowski was born at Gork, October 29, 1822, and was the descendant of an illustrious Polish family.

Cardinal Ledochowski was out driving as usual yesterday evening. When his valet entered his room at 9 o'clock this morning the cardinal had a sudden paralytic stroke and succumbed.

It is thought that Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, bishop of Palestrina and archpriest of the Liberian Basilica, will be appointed prefect.

The pope, on learning of Cardinal Ledochowski's death, was greatly distressed and exclaimed: "A valiant fighter for the church and religion has gone. His memory be blessed." The pontiff then knelt and prayed for the repose of the cardinal's soul.

With Cardinal Ledochowski's death Cardinals San Stefano and Parocchi are the only surviving cardinals created by Pope Pius IX.

Tonight the candidates for the post made vacant by the death of Cardinal Ledochowski are equal in number to the hours which have elapsed since the cardinal's decease. In addition to Cardinal Vannutelli, Cardinal Francis Satolli, formerly apostolic delegate to the United States, is prominently mentioned as a candidate. He is reputed to be a special protege of the pontiff, whose power of appointing is absolute. It is pointed out that Cardinal Satolli's thorough knowledge of American affairs peculiarly fits him for the prefecture, the United States being the most important country with which the propaganda has to deal.

CRUSHED IN THE ROLLS.

Workman in the Duquesne Mills Receives Fatal Injury.

Michael Olcot, aged 37, employed at the Duquesne mills, was fatally injured at 11 o'clock last night by being drawn into the big rolls, his clothing having caught.

Fellow workmen made desperate efforts to release the man, but he could not be pulled out or the rolls stopped until he was badly crushed. He was removed to the McKeesport hospital, where at 2 a. m. he was still unconscious. The physicians have no hopes of his recovery.

Unidentified Man Killed.

An unidentified man was struck by a passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Bessemer station, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and received injuries which resulted in his death at the West Penn hospital several hours later. There was nothing on the body by which it could be identified. The man was about 20 years old and was dressed in a black suit with congress gaiters and a white shirt with red stripes. He weighed about 150 pounds and was about 5 feet 3 inches in height. The body was removed to the morgue.

of the success of his plans that he had arranged to remain at his office in police headquarters until his detectives brought Strong in.

Conferences of the Attorneys.

At the meeting today Mr. Friend replied that he would permit Miss Yohe to settle only on one basis, that being the restoration to her of all of the property lost by her as a result of her association with Strong. Speaking for the Strong family, Mr. Hedges replied that certain concessions must be made. He asserted that nothing was being done for Strong, and that everything was to satisfy the mother of that unfortunate young man.

During the discussion Mr. Hedges at one time lost his temper completely and accused the woman of tempting Strong away from his duty. He said the press had been made use of to create a public sentiment against Strong, who, he said, spent at least $15,000 of his own money since he and Miss Yohe left the United States a year ago to go to Japan. He denounced the assertion that Strong had lived upon the bounty of his companion as a falsehood intended to injure the Strong family.

Having expressed himself thus forcibly, Mr. Hedges said the mother of Strong was willing to make new sacrifices to protect her son, but if this was done, some assurance had to be given that there would be no future demands, and that no attempt would be made to effect a reconciliation between Miss Yohe and Strong.

Then there was an explosion which astonished Mr. Hedges, who is not accustomed to emotional women.

Miss Yohe's Turn to Show Wrath.

Miss Yohe, with her eyes ablaze, expressed her contempt for Strong, and declared her intention of quitting the conference, which she had not proposed. She said she would have nothing to do with Strong, if he begged upon bended knees for forgiveness. She denied that she had used wiles of any sort upon him, asserting that she left Lord Hope for him only after he had followed her about England and had forced his society upon her.

At one time it appeared as if the effort to effect a settlement would be a failure. Miss Yohe said a mistake had been made when she was quoted as saying she was without means. On the contrary, she said she was still able to care for herself and her mother in a comfortable manner. That being the case, she had decided she would have a full return of her property or that she would continue the effort to punish Capt. Strong, sorry though she was for his mother.

It was late in the afternoon before all of these arrangements were completed. As soon as an agreement had been reached, Miss Yohe, Mr. Friend and Mr. Hedges went in separate carriages to police headquarters. The two men went at once to the office of Capt. Titus, Miss Yohe waiting for them outside. The chief of the bureau of detectives was informed that Miss Yohe wished to withdraw the complaint made against Strong by her. Capt. Titus took on a pained expression but consented to the arrangement.

All Over, But Not Forgotten.

"I hope this incident is closed," said Miss Yohe, when seen tonight. "I shall not discuss anything that was done today, but it is useless to deny that a settlement has been effected which protects me from loss as a result of the action of Strong. It is true that all is over between us. Most assuredly I shall not marry him. He has betrayed me once, and I suppose that he would do so again if he had the opportunity. I hope never to see him again. I shall go to Japan as soon as I can make proper arrangements.

"While I do not wish to see Strong again, I cannot entirely forget him. I still wear his picture in the locket on my breast, and his coat and cane are where he left them in the cottage at Hastings."

Dress Stuffs: Silks, Woolens, Cottons,

With Clearance Prices That Are a Wonder.

There is every sort, from the most aristocratic and conventional stuff from Paris to the unpretentious wash cottons woven in this country.

Never was there a time when women could dress so becomingly for such small sums of money.

Thousands upon thousands of yards of medium, fine and finest dress stuffs yet to be cleared, and stock-taking time very near at hand!

Well, there is only one way to do the work—get the prices down. Accept these as a guide to many other similarly underpriced goods that you need.

Clearing the Wash Silks.

Close to 50,000 yards of Washable Silks have been sold over our silk counters in the past two months, and yet we have an immense stock still.

Today 2,000 yards best makes IMPORTED CORDED HABUTAIS, fully guaranteed to wash, sold all along until clearance time for 45c and 50c—marvelously cool for Summer wear—and we say for them..... 25c Yd.

Clearing the Imported Wash Stuffs.

Most effective prices used—and that's the only way.

35c and 40c PLAIN AND FANCY GERMAN DRESS LINENS — those desirable linens that make up so handsomely, have been reduced to low price of..... 18c Yd.

And those party dress Swisses—the beautiful materials we brought over from Switzerland—they're away down: $1 ones, 50c a yard; $1.25 ones, to 75c a yard.

You know we are selling D. & J. Anderson's 40c Ginghams for 15c a yard.

Clearing the Woolens.

This store is known for its fine dress goods; known as the only store that makes a practice of sending its dress goods buyer abroad each year; known as the store that imports direct more dress goods than any other store in Western Pennsylvania, and known for its always less prices.

Just now we are reducing those original less prices at a wonderful rate—after this manner:

$1 and $1.25 IMPORTED MOHAIRS in different shades of gray, and odd pieces of brown, old rose, delft blue, reseda and green, and we close the lot today at ..... 68c Yd.

And imported MOHAIR NOVELTIES, those smart effects for the traveling dress—some few part pieces at these reductions: The $3.50 styles at $1.75 a yard; the $2.25 and $2.50 styles at $1.25 a yard.

And please remember we are selling those highly prized ENGLISH SUITINGS for just half prices.

Clearing the Jackets.

Long before this clearance we said Jackets would be comfortable pretty much through the Summer, although we don't pretend to be weather-wise.

They were all right yesterday, weren't they?

At $2.50 each—sold for $7.50 and $10—Black cloth Eton and fly-front styles—each lined with black silk.

At $4.00—sold for $8.50 and $12.50—Black cloth Etons trimmed and plain effects. Cheviot and unfinished worsted.

At $7.50—sold for $15 and $18—Etons in black broadcloth, cheviot and unfinished worsted, trimmed with either silk or braid and lined with either white or black taffeta.

Women's New Lace Mitts.

Half Price.

Some more good work of our buyer while in Paris.

He bought a fine collection of 12-button length Lace Mitts in white and black—now the rage in hand wear—and they come in a variety of beautiful patterns.

They arrived yesterday.

Under the ordinary way of importing we would have to charge $2 for them, but personal buying and direct importation enable us to say $1 a pair for them.

Foulard Dresses, $10.

These are new dresses and were fashioned to sell for $15, which was the price thousands of their counterparts sold for.

They come in such pretty ground colors as blue, black and white, over which are spread various sizes of dots in pleasing contrasts.

They are attractively trimmed — perhaps handsome would be the better word.

We have no assurance that we can get more to sell at the same figure.

Tailored Suits $15—sold for $22 and up to $30. Look at this offer in this light: They are wearable clear up to the edge of winter weather, the materials employed being handsome cheviots and mannish mixtures. All the desirable styles of coats from an Eton to a fly front, flared and flounced skirts. They are elegantly tailored and are all silk lined.

Baltimore Shirtwaist Suits, $3.50. An entirely new arrival. Made of lawn and madras—white grounds with dots and stripes—plain or brier stitched in black.

Walking Skirts, $5.

Especially inviting just now—all new materials bought at cleaning-up prices.

Styles are the best and the cloths as reliable as you would wish.

Not many of a kind, but many kinds.

New Silk Taffeta Walking Skirts, $7.50. Just in. Box pleated all around—flare at bottom. As prepossessing a skirt as we ever sold for $7.50.

PENN AND FIFTH.

RATHER SLIGHT PUNISHMENT FOR MAJ. E. F. GLENN

He Is Found Guilty at Manila of Administering the Water Cure.

LIEUT. COOK ACQUITTED

The Major Sentenced to One Month's Suspension from Duty and $50 Fine—Offense Mitigated by Valuable Services Rendered.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Secretary Root today sent to the president at Oyster Bay the proceedings and findings in the court-martial cases at Manila of Maj. Edwin F. Glenn, Fifth infantry; Lieut. Julien E. Gaujot, Tenth cavalry, and Lieut. Norman E. Cook of the Philippine scouts.

Glenn was found guilty of administering the water cure to natives, or permitting it to be done, and was sentenced to one month's suspension from duty and fined $50. Lieut. Cook was acquitted on a charge of giving orders to kill three Filipino prisoners. The testimony showed that he had given orders to shoot the prisoners if they attempted to escape. The Filipino scouts to whom this order was given thought it meant to shoot the prisoners.

In forwarding the cases to the president the secretary recommends that the sentences and findings be approved but that no other action be taken. It is not believed here that the president, who is reviewing authority in these cases, will make any comments, such as were delivered by him in the case of Gen. Smith.

It is shown in the evidence and reports that Maj. Glenn has performed excellent service and has done much to pacify the country where he has been in command.

NATIONAL BANKING NEWS.

New Institutions for Clairton and Leraysville—Agents and Officers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—(Special.)—The comptroller of the currency has authorized the First National Bank of Leraysville, Pa., to begin business on $200,000 capital and with J. F. Haigh as cashier.

The comptroller has authorized J. H. Klingensmith of Glassport, Pa., P. V. Land, George V. Brown, John J. Brooks and C. H. E. Suecop to organize the Clairton (Pa.) National bank with $25,000 capital.

The comptroller has approved of the following selections of reserve agents: The Federal National Bank of Pittsburgh for the First National Bank of Ford City, Pa., the First National Bank of Pittsburgh for the First National Bank of Confluence, Pa., the Fourth Street National Bank of Philadelphia for the First National Bank of Everett, Pa.

The comptroller announces the following selections of new officers: The Metropolitan National Bank of Pittsburgh—Henry Daub, second vice president. The Farmers' National Bank of Beaver Falls, Pa.—Walter G. Bert, assistant cashier. The First National Bank of Erie, Pa.—J. L. Sternberg, vice president, and John R. McDonald, cashier, vice Sternberg. The First National Bank of Middleburg, Pa.—James G. Thompson, cashier, vice J. N. Thompson. The First National Bank of Huntington, W. Va.—M. J. Ferguson, assistant cashier, vice Robert L. Archer. The National Exchange Bank of Wheeling—William Ellingham, vice president, vice John Frew, and C. W. Jeffers, assistant cashier, vice W. B. Irvine.

IN TIME OF PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Secretary Root before leaving Washington today issued the following:

"With the reduction of the Philippine force and the withdrawal from Cuba, the army is called upon to resume its most important work in time of peace—the work of perfecting itself in military science and skill, and of promoting the preparation of the United States against future wars.

"Since the declaration of war with Spain, 1898, there have been appointed in the line of the army 1,542 lieutenants, in addition to 276 appointed from the military academy. The abandonment of the military schools for commissioned officers, which followed the employment of the whole army in active military operations, left these 1,542 new lieutenants substantially without any means of acquiring a systematic military education.

"Congress has now, with wise liberality, made provision for the reopening of the army schools, given its sanction to the general system of military education, including the establishment of the war college at Washington. Every effort will be made by the war college board to bring its advantages to the new officers of the army as speedily as possible, and to organize officers' schools at all the considerable posts without delay.

PENNSY'S CAB TAX.

New York City Case Now Pending in Federal Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—The case involving the right of the state of New York to impose a franchise tax on the cab line maintained in the city of New York by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, to carry passengers to and from its Twenty-third street ferry, was docketed in the supreme court of the United States today.

The question involved is whether the cab line is a local institution or a part of the Pennsylvania system. New York courts held that the line is no part of the railroad system, and that it therefore is subject to taxation.

CONSCIENCE IN SECTIONS.

Peculiar Contribution of Gold Certificate Fragments to Fund.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—An unusual contribution to the conscience fund was received today. Someone sent to the treasury department a $20 gold certificate in sections. One part was mailed to the collector of customs in New York and the other from Jersey City to the treasury department. Accompanying this part of the bill was a letter signed "Conscience."

When both pieces of the bill were received they were exchanged for a new $20 bill, which has been placed in the "conscience fund."

COGHLAN IN MANEUVERS.

He Will Not Command the Enemy, but Will Defend New York.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—Rear Admiral J. B. Coghlan, who has been connected with the transportation of the remains of Lord Pauncefote to England, and who is now en route back to the United States, will join the North Atlantic squadron with his flagship, Brooklyn, and take part in the summer maneuvers.

It was the impression in some quarters that Rear Admiral Coghlan might be placed in command of the "enemy's" force, but at the navy department it was said he would simply act as second in command of the defending squadron. A captain will be placed in command of the "enemy's" force.

THE PENSION ROLL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—The following pensions were granted today:

Pennsylvania—John Miller, Saxton, $6; William M. Hunter, New Brighton, $8; Joseph Mason, Pittsburgh, $6; Cummings Sheets, Sharpsburg, $6; Hudson Denny, Willwood, $6; Jacob C. Brilhart, Ord, $12; Henry Lamery, Kersey, $6; Orrel Bladder, Russell, $12; Martin Smith, Barlow, $12; William E. Finefrock, Clarion, $10; John Streightiff, Jessup, $10; John Lane, Carlisle, $12; Keasley Davis, Altoona, $8; Robert Masters, Sligo, $24; Robert S. Burns, Erie, $34 50; Andrew J. Burleigh, Oil City, $8; Henry Reger, Connellsville, $12; Talon Hemminger, Newville, $8; Sallie A. Gillespie, Butler, $8.

Ohio—John Buchman, Pierce, $7; Edward Morse, Ashtabula, $8; Newton Jones, Geneva, $12; William Tampton, Zanesville, $10; Margaret J. Hibbs, New Rumley, $12; Elizabeth Cooper, Ashtabula, $8.

West Virginia—Nere Kenney, Griffithsville, $6; Reuben S. Donahue, Collageville, $17; Jacob C. Elsey, Amboy, $8; John Montague, Huntington, $12; John A. Neff, Ravenswood, $10.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Brigadier General W. H. Carter will act as adjutant general during the absence of Gen. Corbin in Europe.

Lieutenant Governor Tillman of South Carolina has telegraphed a withdrawal of the charge that his mail had been tampered with in the postoffice at Pickens, S. C.

General Frederick D. Grant has been offered the command of the department of Texas, to which Gen. Jacob H. Smith had been assigned before his retirement by the president.

Of all the designs submitted for the new Philippine coins authorized by the last session of congress, those drawn by a native Filipino artist have been adjudged the best by the president and Secretary Root.

Frank L. Campbell, assistant secretary of the interior, has received a letter from the president of Washington and Jefferson college asking him to be present October 15, when the degree of LL. D. will be conferred upon him.

Gov. Taft has informed Secretary Root that the pope had tendered several pretty and appropriate gifts to himself and the members of his party, and he has asked whether these can lawfully be accepted. Secretary Root has replied that if these gifts are not of much intrinsic value and are merely personal, they may be accepted.

The president has designated Col. Thomas Ward adjutant general of the staff of Lieutenant General Miles, to be brigadier general, to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of General Jacob H. Smith. General Ward will immediately go upon the retired list, upon his own application, and Col. Sanger of the inspector general's office, will be made brigadier general in his place.

The state department has taken active steps to save the life of Dr. Russell Wilson, a young Ohio physician who is held under arrest at Bluefields by the Nicaraguan military authorities. Wilson was a member of a filibustering party which made a landing near Monkey Point, about four miles from Bluefields. He was captured and condemned to death.

CARNEGIE TELLS ASPIRING YOUTH HOW TO SUCCEED

Secret Is to Put More Than Average Ability Into Your Undertaking.

NOTHING IN ADVANTAGES

He Who Is Destined to Swim Will Rise Above Circumstances—Trade Develops the Intellect—More Than Money-Making.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 22.—The Evening News, under the signature of Andrew Carnegie, publishes the following essay under the heading, "Requisites for Success in Business":

"The secret of success is a simple matter of honest work, ability and concentration. There is no question about there being room at the top for the exceptional man in any profession. The problem is how to get there. The answer is simple. Conduct your business with just a little more ability than the average man in your line. If you are only above the average, your success is assured, and the degree of success is in ratio to the greater degree of ability and attention which you give above the average.

"There are always a few in business who stand near the top; there are always an infinitely greater number at and near the bottom; and should you fail to ascend, the fault is in yourself. Those who fail may say that this or that man had great advantages, the fates were propitious, the conditions favorable. Now there is very little in this.

"One man falls in the middle of a stream which he tries to jump and is swept away, and another tries the same feat and lands upon the other side.

Differences Between the Jumpers.

"Examine these two men. You will find that the one who failed lacked judgment; he had not calculated on the means to the end; he was a foolish fellow; he had not trained himself; he could not jump; he took the chances. He was like the young lady who was asked if she could play the violin, and who said she 'did not know; she never tried.' Now, the other man who jumped the stream had carefully trained himself; he knew about how far he could jump, and there was one thing 'dead sure' with him; he knew he could jump far enough, at any rate, to land at a point from which he could wade ashore and try again. He had shown judgment.

"All pure coins have their counterfeits; the counterfeit of business is speculation. A man in business always gives value in return for his revenue, and thus performs a useful function. His services are necessary and benefit the community. Besides, he labors steadily in developing the resources of the country, and thus contributes to the advancement of the race. This is genuine coin. Speculation, on the contrary, is a parasite, fastened upon the labor of business men. It creates and supplies no want. When the speculator wins he takes money without rendering service or giving value therefor, and when he loses, his fellow-speculator takes the money from him. It is a pure gambling operation between them, degrading them both.

Speculation Fatal to Business.

"You can never be an honest man of business and a speculator. The modes and aims of the one career are fatal to the other. No business man can honestly speculate, for those who trust him have a right to expect strict adherence to business methods. The creditor takes the usual risks of business, but not those of speculation. The genuine and the counterfeit have nothing in common.

"That 95 per cent fail of those who start in business upon their own account seems incredible, and yet such are said to be the statistics on the subject. Although it is said that figures will say anything, still it is a fact that the proportion is very great. Do not think that I wish to discourage anyone from attempting to be his own master and having a business of his own. Very far from it. Besides, the coming business man is not to be discouraged by anything that anybody can say.

"Now, what may be claimed for business as a career, is that the man in business is called upon to deal with an ever-changing variety of questions. He must have an all-around judgment based upon knowledge of many subjects. It is not sufficient for the great merchant and business man of our day that he know his own country well; its physical conditions, its resources, statistics, crops, railroads, its finances; in short, all conditions which affect not only the present but which give him data upon which he can predict with some degree of certainty the future.

Business Develops the Intellect.

"He must possess some one of the rarest qualities—he must be an excellent judge of men. He often employs thousands, and knows how to bring the best out of various characters. He must have the gift of organization; he must have executive ability; must be able to decide promptly and wisely.

"No professional life embraces so many problems, none requires so wide a view of affairs in general. I think, therefore, that one may justly and fairly say for the business career that it must widen and develop the intellectual powers of those who follow it. On the other hand, the professional career is immeasurably noble in this, that it has not for its chief end the mere aim of money-making.

"To make money is, no doubt, the primary consideration with most young men who enter it. I think if you will look into your heart you will find this to be true; but while this may be the first, it should not be the last consideration. There is the great good which a man can do in developing the resources of his country, in furnishing employment to thousands, in developing inventors who prove of great benefit to the race and help it forward. The successful man of affairs soon rises above the mere desire to make money as the chief end of his labors, that is superseded by thoughts of the good he does in the line which I have just mentioned."

SEEKING JOINT DEBATES.

Dr. Swallow's Manager Makes Overtures to Pennypacker and Pattison.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—State Chairman Charles R. Jones of the Prohibition party has written a letter to the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor, suggesting a series of four joint debates between them and Dr. Swallow, the candidate for the Prohibition party, to take place in August.

Dr. Swallow and Chairman Jones are making a tour of the counties in the center of the state, attending congressional and legislative conferences. The Prohibition state candidates and other speakers will make a tour of the state in September and October. It is the intention to visit every county.

FATHER PRICE IS TO CELEBRATE SILVER JUBILEE

Rector of St. James Will Have Been 25 Years in Priesthood August 17.

HE IS NOW AT LORETTO

Father Lambing of Wilkinsburg Will Celebrate the Thirty-Third Anniversary of His Ministry This Month—Preparations for Events.

August 17 next the Rev. Father John Price, rector of St. James' Roman Catholic church, West End, will have rounded out 25 years in the priesthood. Father Price is now at Loretto, making the annual retreat, and in his absence the congregation is planning for an elaborate silver jubilee celebration in commemoration of the event.

REV. FATHER A. A. LAMBING,
Of Wilkinsburg, Who Is Soon to Celebrate the 33d Anniversary of His Entry Into the Priesthood.

The affair will be in the nature of a reception at which Father Price will be presented with some substantial gift from the congregation. There will also be addresses, recitations and the like.

Father Price will sing a solemn high mass that morning, assisted by several of the local clergy. Father Price is one of the most earnest workers in the Pittsburgh diocese and has charge of one of the most flourishing congregations in the two cities.

Father Price was born in New York city in 1852, and studied in St. Michael's seminary, Glenwood, and St. Mary's, Baltimore. He was ordained by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Tuigg in St. Paul's cathedral. He has been rector of St. James' since July, 1897, previous to which he was in charge of the Natrona church and several mission churches in various parts of the diocese.

Father Price is an eloquent preacher, and during the Advent and Lenten seasons draws large audiences to St. James to hear him propound some doctrine of the church or deliver a thoughtful discourse on popular topics.

Another distinguished priest of the Pittsburgh diocese who will have an anniversary this month is the Rev. Dr. A. A. Lambing of Wilkinsburg. Father Lambing was ordained just eight years before Father Price, and will, consequently, celebrate his 33d anniversary. Father Lambing is the historian of the Pittsburgh diocese and author of several volumes of historical research concerning Western Pennsylvania.

Like all literary men, Father Lambing has a "den," and when not making the rounds of his flock or hurrying to some sick call he is invariably to be found there. In this "den" are several rare volumes that would be tempting to the book lore man, but Father Lambing is equally fond of the curious and rare in literature, and sticks to his tomes with the devotedness of a thorough literary man. Among these rare books are ancient manuscripts of the Bible printed hundreds of years ago.

TWO NOTABLES ARRIVE.

Santos-Dumont and Ambassador Meyer Come In on Same Ship.

NEW YORK, July 22.—George von L. Meyer, United States ambassador to Italy, and Alberto Santos-Dumont, the Brazilian aeronaut, were among the passengers on the steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm, which arrived today from Bremen.

Santos-Dumont, who is scheduled to make a series of airship ascensions near New York, said he was glad to hear there would be several competitors for the prizes offered at the St. Louis exhibition, as it would stimulate interest in the building of airships.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy, The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

MAN WHO KILLED SAM DORSEY IS NOW IN CUSTODY

Murder in Washington, Pa., in October, 1897, Is Recalled.

WAS SENSATION AT TIME

Murdered Man Was Popular Character of the College Town—Supposed Murderer Is a Negro With a Bad Record.

Author Brown, colored, 38 years old, of Cincinnati, was arrested by Detectives James Eagan and George Cole yesterday morning at 10 o'clock for the murder of Samuel Wilson Dorsey, who was shot and killed in Washington, Pa., in October, 1897.

The negro was apprehended by the detectives living in a shanty at Twenty-first street and the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston railroad crossing, South Side. When taken to the police station he denied that he had any connection with the murder. County Detective William McBride of Washington will come here this morning and take Brown to Washington. The detectives are positive they have the right man, as he is alleged to have confided to a friend that he killed Dorsey. This man immediately conveyed the information to the detectives.

Detectives Eagan and Cole have been looking for Brown for several months. They learned that he was in the city and when they started to search for him discovered that he had disappeared. Recently they were informed that he had returned and was living in the shanty in Twenty-first street. They went to the place and inquired for Brown. They told him he was wanted for holding up a man in Water street and he would have to accompany them to the Central police station.

When taken to the station house he was told that he was wanted for the murder of Dorsey, and he immediately denied all connection with that affair.

Samuel William Dorsey was a prosperous colored resident of Washington. He was a member of councils and also a proprietor of a barber shop. One night in October, 1897, he closed up his shop at midnight and started for home. He had $600 on his person. When he reached the residence of Dr. Wright he was accosted by two men, who shot him dead. They rifled his pockets and took $425 and his watch and chain. In their haste they left $175 in his vest pocket.

The men made their escape at the time. Later a colored man known as "Kid Bennett" was arrested and charged with the murder. He was a companion of Brown. Bennett was arraigned before the coroner's jury, but as there was not sufficient evidence to sustain the charge of murder, he was released.

Brown has a long criminal record. At the time of the murder he says he passed through Washington from the Columbus penitentiary. He has served time in Covington, Ky., and in the jail at Cincinnati. He was arrested in East End for assaulting a policeman in 1899 and served 90 days in the workhouse. He was also arrested in Braddock for assault and was committed to the Allegheny county jail for a short time.

"Sam" Dorsey, the murdered man, was one of the best known characters the college town ever had. He was the personal friend of nearly every student Washington and Jefferson college ever had, and his murder besides causing a sensation, caused much sincere mourning.

SAYS TIN PLATE MEN WILL STAND WAGE CUT

President Theodore J. Shaffer Speaks Favorably of the American Tin Plate Company's Proposal.

"The majority of the tin plate lodges of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers have voted in favor of accepting the reduction of 25 per cent in wages proposed by the American Tin Plate Company," said Theodore J. Shaffer, president of the association, last night at Union station. Shaffer, accompanied by Secretary-Treasurer John Williams, left for Ellwood, Ind., to attend meetings of lodges in the Indiana gas belt.

The Amalgamated president showed some satisfaction as he made the statement. He spoke with favor of the proposition, saying that while it means a reduction of the daily income of the workers it means an increase in the year's income for the union; that it will mean steady operation of the mills.

The wage reduction is proposed so that the Standard Oil Company's contract for plates may be secured for the American Tin Plate Company instead of going to Wales, as in years past. This contract amounts to about 1,500,000 boxes a year.

On the tariff on the imported tin plate 99 per cent is now refunded when the product is exported. If a price, such as that required to compete with the Wales product is made, the contract will be awarded to the American Tin Plate Company. Mr. Shaffer said that the price of the Wales tin plate is about $1 15 below the price at which the American product is selling—$4 a 100-pound box.

Mr. Shaffer made the further statement that by this reduction the business of the great canning companies, like the Armours and Swifts, can be secured to the American Tin Plate Company. He is confident of the acceptance of the reduction by the tin plate workers.

COBBLESTONE GANG AGAIN.

Crowd of Lawrenceville Hoodlums Make Attack on Street Car Conductor.

The "cobblestone gang" got gay with a street car conductor about 8 o'clock last night at Twenty-eighth and Liberty streets. David Monroe was the conductor. When his car stopped at Twenty-eighth street he ran ahead to see if the track was clear. A number of the gang jumped on the platform when Monroe left it and amused themselves ringing up fares. When Monroe returned to the rear of the car they pulled off the trolley rope, knocked Monroe down and beat him until several motormen and conductors arrived, and then ran away after tossing a few of the stones from which they get their name. Later in the night two members of the gang were arrested.

COMPETITION FOR GARBAGE CONTRACT

GUESSING AS TO WHO KARL F. MILLER REPRESENTS.

He Has Approached Charles Flinn With a Proposition to Buy the Pittsburgh Reduction Company's Plant—Defects in Ordinance Miller Is Championing.

Karl F. Miller, who is handling the garbage ordinance which passed second reading in common council Monday night, has opened negotiations with the Pittsburgh Reduction Company to buy its plant. Rumors are in circulation that Miller represents Proctor & Gamble, the soap manufacturers of Cincinnati.

Miller himself has confided to several that he represents W. J. Chamberlain & Co., who have the garbage contracts for Detroit, Cincinnati and Washington, D. C., and who are said to be now reaching out for the contract in Pittsburgh.

The ordinance now before Pittsburgh councils authorizes the director of the department of public safety and the city recorder to award a contract for the collection and disposal of garbage for the four years, beginning July 1, 1903, at which time the contract held by the Pittsburg Reduction Company expires.

Charles Flinn, a brother of Senator William Flinn, is at the head of the Pittsburgh Reduction Company. Miller some time ago opened negotiations with Charles Flinn, but the latter not knowing with whom he was dealing, would talk little business to him. Miller is determined to push the ordinance through councils if possible, and for that reason attends every meeting of common council.

Flinn Not Anxious to Sell.

"I do not know who Miller represents," said Charles Flinn yesterday, "but I am aware that he is working hard to get the ordinance through. He called on me some time ago in relation to it and talked about securing the contract. He wanted me to help him get the ordinance through councils. I do not know why he came to me in relation to the ordinance. Of course, I think we stand as good a show as any one else if the ordinance was passed. He told me that if his firm underbids us they would be willing to take our disposal plant off our hands at a reasonable figure. We are now using our plant and are not anxious to sell.

"He may represent Proctor & Gamble, but I do not know. We dispose of the grease in our garbage to Proctor & Gamble, but I think the soap firm is too great a concern to bother with a garbage contract. Still they might do so. It is possible. I gained the impression from what was said, that he represented Chamberlain of Cincinnati."

While Flinn would not admit that Miller had approached him with a distinct offer to buy the plant at once and take the present contract off his hands, it is known that Miller informed a member of council but he was negotiating to that effect, and that the machine members of common council and of select council also would back the ordinance for that reason.

Machine Men Did Not Make Good.

The machine members showed conclusively Monday night that they had no intention of doing anything of the kind, for they fought the ordinance tooth and nail, although it passed second reading despite that fact.

The proposed garbage ordinance is defective. It provides for the award of a contract for four years, beginning next July. Under the new charter, contracts cannot be made for longer than one year, because appropriations are made each February for only one year.

The proposed ordinance provides that this contract shall be awarded at once. Controller John B. Larkin will not recognize the contract if it is awarded before next February, because the money is not now in the city treasury with which to pay for the work.

Even if it is passed, neither Director A. H. Leslie nor Recorder J. O. Brown will pay any attention to it. Controller Larkin would at once notify them that nothing of the kind could be allowed.

Miller explains that the ordinance was introduced at this time, so that the contract might be awarded at once, because the ordinance provides that each bidder must have a plant in operation when he bids and when the contract is awarded. It is believed that the Miller plant is in operation in Cincinnati.

FILTRATION WILL BE GIVEN A MONTH'S REST

No Further Action Likely to Be Taken Until Councils Resume Business in September.

It is understood that filtration, as considered from a councilmanic standpoint, is to be shelved until the regular meeting on the second Monday of September, after the summer vacation is over. So many of the reform members of councils are out of the city for the summer that the project of getting the experts to work during this month has been abandoned.

The presence of all the reform members will be necessary at a meeting of common council before the filtration resolution presented last Monday night by W. H. Stevenson, of the Fourteenth ward, can be passed in fewer that three meetings.

"While we are very anxious to get this filtration question settled," said President Crawford, of Common council, yesterday, "I do not believe that we will advance the matter by calling special meetings. So many of our members are out of the city that we would have to advance the resolution by slow stages, and I do not believe we would help matters by doing that.

"The subject is important, but the machine seems determined to obstruct business which the people want transacted and which ought to be done. I am in favor of giving the people what they want. We were elected on that kind of a platform, and we must carry it out. The question of pure water is one of the most important this council will have to settle, and for myself, I am in favor of settling it as soon as possible. We ought to let the people know just what it will cost to put in a sand filtration system, and if they want it at the price they can vote for it."

Statistics compiled by the chamber of commerce show that the percentage of typhoid fever on the South Side is much less than that throughout the city. The South Side is furnished with water from the Monongahela river, while that part of the city between the two rivers gets water from the Allegheny river. There has been a great deal of talk concerning the intention of the South Side people to vote against further action looking toward a sand filtration plant unless it takes in the South Side. There has also been a great deal of talk about placating these people with a mechanical filter.

Coroner's Inquest on Johnstown Horror Begins Today; Congressional Contest Opens in Eighteenth Ohio District

MINE INQUEST BEGINS TODAY

Many Witnesses to Testify Before Coroner on Johnstown Horror.

FULL INQUIRY IS PROMISED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 22.—Coroner E. L. Miller has completed arrangements for the opening of the inquest into the disaster in the Cambria Steel Company's rolling mill mine. The investigation will begin tomorrow morning in the G. A. R. hall and will continue for several days.

An immense amount of testimony will be taken. About 50 witnesses have already been subpoenaed. Among those who will be called to testify will be Chief James E. Broderick of the state bureau of mines and mining, the four state mine inspectors, J. T. Evans of this city, Joseph Williams of Altoona, C. B. Ross of Greensburg and I. G. Roby of Uniontown; Mine Foreman H. L. Rogers, Fire Boss Griffith Powell, Chief Mining Engineer Marshal G. Moore, A. G. Prosser and his assistants, Valek Salla, a Pole, who was rescued alive, and many others, including miners who were in the mine the day of the explosion and who have worked there for years; also, relatives of miners who were killed by the afterdamp.

"I have made every effort to get witnesses whose testimony will have a material bearing on the case," said the coroner today, "and if there are any who can give testimony which will be of use and whose names I have not already secured, I wish they would make themselves known to me. It is my object to make the inquest as thorough and searching as possible."

SENT TO JAIL FOR ATTEMPTING SUICIDE

Mercer County Man Makes Three Efforts to Kill Himself Because His Wife Disappears.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENVILLE, PA., July 22.—Tilghman Hoffman, a prominent farmer of Delaware township, was committed to jail this afternoon for thrice attempting to take his life. He is thought to be temporarily insane from brooding over the absence of his wife, who has not been seen since Sunday.

Hoffman was found by several neighbors last night with the barrel of a shotgun in his mouth trying to work the trigger with his toes. He came to town this morning and several neighbors who had followed him prevented him from purchasing a revolver. This afternoon he attempted to cut his throat with a knife in Dwyer's restaurant. The knife was taken away and later he tried to tried to throw himself into the Shenango river.

Since Mrs. Hoffman disappeared 50 neighbors have searched the country for miles around. A pair of bloodhounds was secured and they followed a trial which ended at a fence a mile from the house.

Fly Wheel Wrecked Building.

SAYS HER HUSBAND WEARS FEMALE DRESS

Odd Story Told by a Troy Hill Woman to the Police—Provoked by Abuse.

Mrs. John Henry Franz of No. 7 Lautner street, Troy hill, Allegheny, has notified the police that her husband is in the habit of masquerading in female clothing, and she wants him arrested. Mrs. Franz complained to Policeman Adam Helm, and the Anti-Cruelty society was requested to investigate.

Agent James Rhea, with Policeman Helm, yesterday began an investigation. For 20 years Franz, according to his wife, has been parading in woman's clothing. Franz is 48 years old and the father of six children, of whom the eldest, a daughter, is married. He is employed at the Walker soap factory and Mrs. Franz complains that recently her husband has not been contributing to the support of the family. She says he spends his earnings purchasing female apparel, which he wears at night.

Last Monday, she alleges, Franz read an advertisement of a bargain sale of women's skirts worth $6.50, marked down to $2.90. She says her husband had only $2 and demanded the extra 90 cents to purchase a skirt. This, she says, she refused to give him and he gave her a beating.

Mrs. Franz declares she has shielded him all these years, thinking it was only a fad of her husband's, but when he began to spend all his money for women's clothing and abuse her and the children, she complained.

Mrs. Franz showed to the officers her husband's female outfit, consisting of dresses, corsets, under clothes and various other articles.

OUT OF BUSINESS AT LAST.

Old Columbia Oil Co. Has Paid Its Last Dividend and Wound Up All Its Affairs.

The old Columbia Oil Company, one of the best known concerns in the state, declared its last dividend and went out of business last Monday.

This company was one of the pioneers in the Pennsylvania oil trade, having been founded in 1861 with a capital of $2,500,000. The founders were Augustus Hartje, David Richey and William Coleman. In 1863 the company was reorganized and took in Andrew Carnegie, Bateman Goe, William Coleman and David Stewart.

For years it operated largely on the Storey farm near Titusville and in the territory around Tidioute. Later its operations were extended to all the oil producing territory in the state. During its existence it drilled hundreds of wells and was very successful in its operations. A total of over $4,500,000 was paid out by the company in dividends.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS SCOTTDALE SHOOTING

Conflicting Stories Told by a Man With Two Wounds.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCOTTDALE, PA., July 22.—Considerable mystery surrounds a shooting affray which occurred at a boarding house in this place early this morning. Hugh McDavitt was shot twice in the right breast, one bullet going entirely through his body. A local physician dressed his wounds and sent him to a hospital in Pittsburgh. McDavitt, it is said, told conflicting stories as to the cause of the shooting, finally claiming that it was accidental. The police claim that he could not have been shot twice by accident.

Mrs. Ewing, who conducts the boarding house, made a statement this evening which seems to clear up the mystery surrounding the shooting of McDavitt. She said that her husband came home last evening for the purpose of inducing her to go with him to West Virginia. She told him that she did not care to leave. This morning he again insisted that she should go with him, and when she refused he drew a revolver and said:

"If you will not go with me I'll kill you and then kill myself."

Before he could fire, she says, McDavitt sprang between them and caught Ewing's arm, trying to take the revolver from him. In the struggle Ewing fired twice, both bullets striking McDavitt. He finally succeeded in getting the revolver from Ewing.

ANOTHER WABASH LINE.

Route Selected for Connecting Link in West Virginia Coal Territory.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., July 22.—After four surveys the route has finally been decided for the new railroad to connect the West Virginia Central with the Little Kanawha railroad to form part of the Wabash system. Both Buckhannon and Weston, which had hoped to be on the main line, are to be cut out and will be on short branches.

The line will leave the West Virginia Central at Leiters and pass up Laurel fork, thence across to Middle fork, thence south of Weston and Buckhannon to Burnsville, thence down the Little Kanawha river to a connection with the Little Kanawha road. The Wabash railroad and Davis, Elkins and other promoters have taken up thousands of acres of coal land along this route. The connection is to be made this year.

SALEM, O., July 22.—(Special.)—Another Wabash railroad survey is in progress, according to information gained here. A corps of railroad surveyors arrived yesterday. It consists of nine men, in charge of W. G. Pratt, of Cleveland. They started from Steubenville some weeks ago, followed the river to Wellsville and thence struck across the country toward this city, the ultimate terminus being Fairport, or some point in that immediate vicinity. Large areas of undeveloped coal lands will be struck in the line across Columbiana county.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 22.—(Special.)—Excitement has been created in the vicinity of Moravia, south of here, by the appearance of three corps of railroad surveyors, who are making the line for a new railway which is to be built from Lisbon, O., to Moravia, and on to this city. Rumor has it that the surveyors are working in the interests of the Wabash, but the surveyors refuse to talk.

STARVING OUT DROPSY.

Ohio Woman Has Fasted Since July 11 on Advice of Her Physician.

LANCASTER, O., July 22.—Mrs. Emma Wacker of this city is trying to starve out a case of dropsy from which she is suffering and has, on the advice of her physician, refrained from eating since July 11, her only sustenance being water with a sprinkle of lemon juice.

The woman says she feels no desire for food, and asserts that her condition is greatly improved.

Safe Robbed at Beaver Falls.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., July 22.—(Special.)—The safe in the candy factory of the D. L. Clark Company at this place was blown open last night and robbed of $500 and $200 in checks; also a lot of postage stamps. Although the place is on the main street, no one heard the noise and the robbery was not known until this morning.

Held for Killing His Son.

KANE, PA., July 22.—(Special.)—For the alleged killing of his son David Rice was arrested at Corduroy yesterday. The son, Edward, was a rural mail carrier, and was found cremated with his horse in his father's barn several months ago. Rice obtained $2,000 insurance that was carried by his son.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

WARREN, O.—At a meeting of citizens of Vernon, Orangeville and Kinsman last night final steps were taken to insure the construction of an electric line from Middlefield, O., to Sharon, Pa.

SHARON, PA.—The Fannie Blast furnace at West Middlesex has banked on account of scarcity of coke. Several other furnaces in the valley will be forced to shut down within a few days unless coke is secured.

BROWNSVILLE, PA.—William Thomas, a young freight brakeman on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, was killed yesterday near Tucker run. He jumped to catch the engine, when he slipped, falling under the wheels.

BELLEVERNON, PA.—By a vote of 107 to 88 a special election to increase the bonded indebtedness of the borough by $10,000 carried yesterday. The money is to be used for additional apparatus for the fire department and the paving of State street.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—Rodney Griffith, an elder in the Disciple church at Salineville, was held in $500 bail for the grand jury by Justice Riley at Wellsville, the Rev. E. W. Rinehart, recently pastor of the church, having charged him with malicious libel.

OPERATORS CONFER.

Meet in New York, But Decline to Tell the Object of the Gathering at This Time.

NEW YORK, July 22.—There was a meeting today at the office of President Baer of the Reading, which was attended by President Truesdale of the Lackawanna, Robert W. DeForest, of counsel for the Central railroad of New Jersey, and President Underwood of the Erie railroad. Mr. DeForrest declined to say what was the object of the meeting. Before the meeting President Baer declared there would be no conference of operators to discuss plans for reopening the collieries.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 22.—President Mitchell will leave for Chicago tomorrow afternoon. He will stay in that city a day and will then go direct to Wilkesbarre to resume active management of the strike.

CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST OPENS

Convention at Salem, O., Today to Name Tayler's Successor.

FIVE CANDIDATES IN FIELD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SALEM, O., July 22.—Congressman R. W. Tayler arrived in Salem this evening to preside at the Eighteenth district congressional convention, which convenes tomorrow. This convention is to nominate a candidate to succeed him in the next congress, and to take his place on the Republican ticket which he made vacant three weeks ago after being nominated without opposition for a fifth term.

There is plenty of good timber on the ground for a successor, and during the next two days there will be a lively fight over the place. The candidates are: Charles S. Speaker of Columbiana county; James Kennedy, Mahoning, and J. J. Grant, T. Harvey Smith and Wallace H. Phelps, Stark county. Speaker and Kennedy lead in the order named in the numerical strength of their delegates, and, since there seems to be no prospect of a combination in Stark county, the chances of success seem to be in favor of either Speaker or Kennedy, with the advantage in favor of the former.

The convention will be called to order by Judge Fawcett of Canton, as chairman of the Eighteenth congressional convention, who will introduce Congressman Tayler as temporary chairman. At the afternoon session the latter will be made permanent chairman, the candidates will be placed in nomination and perhaps a ballot or two taken.

Desertion Is Charged—James Steen of Hazelwood was committed to jail last night by Alderman William B. Armstrong, for court trial on a charge of desertion and non-support brought by his wife, Annie. Steen claims that he was unable to live with her and that he had been out of work for some time and had just secured work when arrested.

Coal Driver's Hard Luck—Bernard McLaughlin, 23 years of age, a driver for the Monongahela Coal & Coke Company, was thrown from his wagon yesterday morning in California avenue, Allegheny, and had his right arm and his nose broken. He was dragged some distance by the frightened horses. After his wounds were dressed he was taken to his home in Etna.

Cruel Parents Sued Again—Annie Kovitz, 4 years of age, daughter of John Kovitz of Third avenue, Homestead, was found yesterday by Humane Agent Thomas Shinton, nearly naked and covered with bruises. Suit was entered against the child's father and step-mother and the child taken from them. This is the second time they have been prosecuted for cruelty to the child.

Gas Explosions at a Fire—There was an explosion of gas in the basement of Samuel Goldberg's cigar factory, No. 142 Crawford street, about 9 o'clock last night. Lieut. Harry Sill of No. 4 company was knocked down by another explosion as he got inside of the door. He was taken to Mercy hospital, where it was ascertained he was but little injured. The fire was a stubborn one, but the loss was very little.

Passengers Were Jarred—The Atlantic express, which leaves Union station at 3 a. m., eastbound, ran into a coach standing on the main tracks at Twenty-first street yesterday morning, wrecking the car and damaging the engine, but not injuring passengers or crew. The coach was thrown on top of the engine. The train was a few minutes late in starting and was running, it is said, at something more than usual speed.

Homestead Sells Water Pipe—Homestead council, at a special meeting yesterday, decided to sell the water pipe in West Homestead borough to the Chartiers Water Company, which has recently been granted a franchise to supply water in that borough. For the past 10 years the water supply of West Homestead has been furnished by Homestead, but now that it is a borough Homestead, by reason of an act of legislature, cannot sell water, so the contract was given to the Chartiers company. The company offered $568.85 for the 2,000 feet of pipe and the offer was accepted.

Brick Thrower Sued—Robert Keenan of Sheraden will be given a hearing today before Alderman Edward C. Vierheller of the West End on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, made by Thomas Hammel, a motorman of the Southern traction branch of the Pittsburgh Railways Company. It is alleged that a brick Keenan threw through the car window struck Hammel in the stomach.

Marie Lang's Death Accidental—The coroner's inquest into the death of Miss Marie Lang of Tremont avenue, Allegheny, on July 9, was held yesterday, and the verdict was accidental death. Miss Lang was one of a party of 14 girls out for a hay ride, and their wagon was wrecked on Bone hill at Avalon. The horses went down the hill faster than the girls thought was right, and Miss Lang caught one of the reins. This threw the horses into the ditch and tipped over the wagon.

Last Week's Death List—More than one-half the deaths in Pittsburgh last week were of children under 10 years old. The total number of deaths was 137, and 53 of these were babies under 1 year old. The principal causes were: Diarrhoea, 27; pneumonia, 11; typhoid fever, 6; scarlet fever, 3; consumption, 6, and by violence, 16. Of the latter one was by sunstroke and one by heat exhaustion. During last week there were 56 cases of typhoid fever, 16 of scarlet fever and 5 of diphtheria reported.

PAY FOR THE GUARD.

Warrants for Members of the Eighteenth Were Received Yesterday.

Pay warrants for the officers and men of the Eighteenth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, who attended the encampment at Gettysburg, were received yesterday by Col. Frank I. Rutledge. The warrants will be distributed to captains of the various companies at the regimental headquarters, Fifth avenue and Bouquet street, Oakland, tomorrow night. The warrants are made payable at any of the local banks and the men will receive their pay as soon after tomorrow evening as can be arranged by the captains of the companies.

Col. W. E. Thompson of the Fourteenth regiment had not received the warrants for his regiment when seen at his home in McKeesport last evening, but said that he had left his office early and they were probably delivered in the late mail.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. George Henning, whose boat, the Tornado, is on the way south, is taking a vacation at his home.

The towboats J. C. Risher and Fallie arrived in port yesterday.

The Hastings will run between lock No. 9 and Morgantown for the Monongahela River Packet Company while the lock is closed.

The Cincinnati packet, Queen City, was due at 9 o'clock last night.

Capt. Edward Howard has contracted with the Capital City Oil Mill Company of Baton Rouge, La., for a new towboat.

Capt. Lute Moore took the towboat Eagle to New Orleans. She was sold by the Hall Towboat Company to the Louisiana Petroleum Company of New Orleans and will tow Beaumont oil. She will use oil as fuel.

The Steel Queen, lately repaired, is now in service with Capt. Lou Craig in command and Capt. Scott, R. H. Brown, associate.

Capt. Walter Verlander and A. L. Brunson, of New Orleans, have bought the steamer Roger Dodds from Mrs. Ida Moorse Lachmund, of Clinton, Ia. She will tow cotton seed into New Orleans.

Capt. John Maguire, master of the towboat J. O. Coles, towing for the Crane Company at Cincinnati, has been off his boat several days on account of sickness.

ANOTHER COAL SHIPMENT.

About 300 Barges With 4,500,000 Bushels Got Away Yesterday.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company took advantage of the rise in the rivers yesterday by sending south about 300 coalboats with a cargo estimated at 4,500,000 bushels of coal.

Only 16 towboats were started, but it is expected that several more, which are due in port or are building, will be dispatched within the next 48 hours.

The water did not reach the stage predicted by many river men, but showed 9 feet at Market street and 10 feet at Davis island dam, which was sufficient to get the boats under way without danger. As the heaviest rains were reported from the headwaters of the Allegheny, it is expected that the water will continue rising until tonight, by which time a large number of other barges will be made ready for the start.

This rise, coming in the mid-summer season when low water is looked for, is a very unusual occurrence and with the big rise will enable the coal companies to get enough coal down the river to supply the market until the fall run.

Besides the boats of the Consolidated the People's Coal Company started out the towboat Gleaner, with a tow of 17 barges, and the Clyde Coal Company's towboat Lookout got away with a fleet of seven barges and three flats. Captain Holmes Harger and Rush Burnsides were the pilots on the latter.

SUMMER ADVICE.

By One Who Knows.

Keep cool in hot weather.

"How?"

By eating Grape-Nuts every day.

"Rats!"

No, not rats, but a good sound fact that thousands make daily use of.

Grape-Nuts is a predigested food which makes digestion easy.

It gives the nourishment without the internal heat caused by heavy carbonaceous foods.

You can feel from ten to twenty degrees cooler than your neighbor when you eat proper food that does not overtax the stomach.

Grape-Nuts is made from certain parts of the grain and by mechanical process the starchea are changed into grape sugar in the same manner as the stomach would do in the first act of digestion.

The phosphates of the cereals are retained in Grape-Nuts and these and the grape sugar supply the necessary nourishment to body, brain and nerve centers.

Grape-Nuts is a concentrated food giving strength, vitality and coolness to the body and energy and clearness to the brain, in place of the heavy, sluggish, draggy feeling caused by meat, potatoes, etc.

Another point.

It is thoroughly cooked at the factory by food experts and saves you the trouble.

You get it from the grocer and by adding cream, it is ready to serve.

No hot stove, no cross cook, no loss of time or exertion as with other food.

Its crisp taste with the delicate sweet of the grape sugar makes it pleasing to the palate of the most critical epicure.

The recipe book in each package of Grape-Nuts gives many pleasing puddings, salads, entrees and desserts that can be made.

Worth a trial and a package will prove it.

DAMAGES ASKED FOR INJURIES AT SHERADEN FIRE

First Suit Resulting from Awful Naphtha Explosions Demands $10,000.

RAILROAD IS DEFENDANT

Edward A. Gudfelder, Who Lost His Hearing, Claims Careless Lighting of Lamp in Daytime Caused the Great Destruction of Life.

The first damage suit resulting from the Sheraden disaster on May 12 last, which caused the loss of 27 lives and injured hundreds of people, was entered against the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Company yesterday by Attorneys D. S. McCaan and J. L. Ritchie, representing Edward A. Gudfelder, a telegraph operator, who asks for $10,000 damages as a result of injuries alleged to have been received at Corks Run shortly after the second explosion of naphtha, which wrought so much ruin and destruction.

Since the verdict of the coroner's jury, placing the blame for the disaster on a brakeman who cannot be found, the railroad company, it is alleged, refuses to do anything for some of the victims of the brakeman's carelessness, holding that it is not responsible for anything that may have happened in Corks run, which is somewhat removed from the point where the naphtha cars exploded.

Gudfelder Was at Corks Run.

Gudfelder, who was employed by the Postal Telegraph Company, was not near the scene of the explosion, but was standing on a bridge at Corks run waiting for a street car to take him to his work. Shortly after the second explosion a number of minor explosions are alleged to have taken place for blocks around, caused by the burning naphtha being carried through sewers to other parts of the borough.

One of these explosions took place in a sewer under the bridge Gudfelder was standing upon. He was blown 10 feet into the air, burned badly and suffered from a bursted ear drum, rendering him totally deaf in that ear. His left foot has become permanently crippled, he alleges, and a shock to his nervous system, together with other injuries, make it impossible for him to earn wages at his former business.

In his statement Gudfelder alleges that the defendant company is a common carrier of passengers and freight, and that its servants and employes are bound at all times to use due care and precaution in the conduct and prosecution of its business so that the public will be safe from danger and injury; that it is bound to use a special and higher degree of caution in the handling of explosive substances, but that it wholly neglected and failed to use any care, and was guilty of great and gross carelessness and negligence, causing serious and permanent injury to the plaintiff.

How He Was Injured.

It is alleged that about 5 o'clock on May 12 Gudfelder was standing on a bridge crossing Corks run at River avenue, Esplen, when the explosion occurred at the discharging mouth of the sewer. That the cause of this was the careless handling of certain cars in the defendant company's charge and upon its tracks at Sheraden, so that these tank cars containing naphtha, which is of a highly explosive and dangerous character, were negligently and recklessly allowed to violently collide and come in contact with each other, thereby causing them to burst open and discharge large quantities of the stuff on the tracks and roadbed of the company, and from thence into a sewer, leading from the yards of the railroad company to Corks run; that a portion of this escaping naphtha came in contact with a lighted switch lamp at the side of the defendant's roadbed, which had been carelessly and negligently allowed to remain lighted during the daytime, together with the concussion or ignition of the said escaping naphtha or volatile gas generated from the same, a violent and tremendous explosion occurred, followed by other and frequent explosions, causing the tank cars to burst wide open and permitting large volumns of the escaping naphtha to flow into all the surrounding sewers.

Alleges Cars Were Old and Damaged.

It is further alleged that the naphtha cars were old and damaged, something not brought out at the coroner's inquest, and that said cars were leaking badly a long time prior to the accident, and before the cars came into the custody of the defendant company, that the company continued to handle them when it knew the naphtha was flowing from them and was fully aware of its dangerous and highly explosive nature.

It is alleged that the plaintiff was put to great expense for doctor and medicines; has had to undergo operations and will probably need the care of physicians and be put to great expense on account of said injuries during the remainder of his life; that prior to the said injury he was a healthy and strong man.

Gudfelder claims that the negligence of the railroad company was the direct and proximate cause of the injuries he received, and that he was not guilty of negligence nor did any act of his own contribute in any way to his injuries. He claims to have suffered damages to the extent of $10,000.

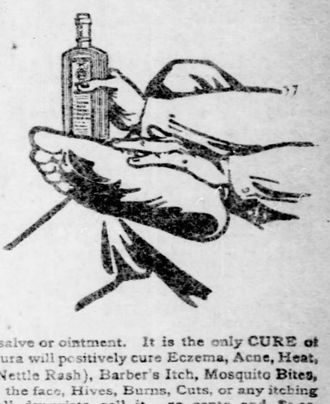
THIS ECZEMA SUFFERER WAS ENTIRELY CURED IN FOUR WEEKS BY ZEMA-CURA.

"Dr. M. M. HARRIS:—I wish to say that I had been troubled with eczema in my feet for three years, having had three doctors to treat me, but was never cured until I commenced using 'Zema-Cura.' After using it for three or four weeks I was very much surprised to find my feet entirely cured. I had almost given up hope of being cured, having spent hundreds of dollars without success. At the time I begun Zema-Cura I had not had a shoe on for three months. It has now been at least ten months, and no sign of its returning. I can not say too much in behalf of this medicine. You are at liberty to refer anyone to any time to me. I will take pleasure in answering any inquiries."—R. C. WHAYNE, Louisville, Ky.



ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp. All druggists sell it. 50 cents and $1.00.
Remember! ZEMA-CURA is not one of the many "patent medicines" of the day. It is a doctor's prescription—a scientific compound that has been used for years by its discoverer, Dr. Harris, in daily practice. It has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health.

☞ If you will write to-day Dr. Harris will advise you fully and carefully regarding your case, and charge you absolutely nothing.

Address: Dr. M. M. HARRIS, The Zema-Cura Co., No. 3 West 22nd Street, New York City.

During the treatment of all skin diseases with ZEMA-CURA, externally, U-AH-MA, Dr. Harris' Blood Purifier, taken internally, will be found of great benefit. By acting on the excretory glands U-AH-MA eliminates the poison virus, and hastens and completes the cure. $1.00. Druggists, or express prepaid.

Mine Accident Inquest.

Today the coroner's inquiry into the Rolling Mill mine disaster at Johnstown will be begun. The death of Fire Boss Retallick has deprived the inquest of an important witness, but it is probable the inspectors and officials will be able to point out the cause of the accident without his assistance. Upon the determination of that point may depend the question whether or not suits for damages may be filed. Beyond that it is not likely the investigation will produce anything of value. The prevention of similar disasters in the future will not be assured. The two primary causes of such explosions are unexpected flows of gas and human negligence. Law was never yet able to control either.

An Awful Total.

A compilation by a committee of the chamber of commerce gives Pittsburgh an unenviable record of 1,115 cases of typhoid fever in five months. It is an appalling total. It is worse because in a measure preventable. Typhoid is classed by the experts as a water-borne disease in a majority of cases. There is some confirmation of this view in the Pittsburgh statistics, the number of cases according to population being almost twice as great in the territory supplied from the Allegheny river as in that supplied from the Monongahela. At least a part of the South Side water supply is taken from cribs that give it a sort of crude filtration. Another significant fact is that Allegheny's typhoid rate is less than that of Pittsburgh, while formerly it was greater. This difference is attributed mainly to the filtration gallery at the new Montrose water works. That device does not afford actual filtration, but it yields water of better appearance than that hurried from the pumps at Brilliant to the city mains. This is, of course, but a new rendering of an old story. The obnoxious conditions are prolonged by official unwillingness to mend and dogmatic insistence upon divergent methods of purification.

It is possible and has been all along possible to supply comparatively pure water to Pittsburgh at moderate expense. Water rates have been made to pay surplus revenues into the city treasury sufficient, in thirty years, to pay for any of the proposed plans for supplying pure water. The cost of preventable disease in medical attendance and funeral fees has been many times the amount required. And because the case is so urgent it is made the basis for plans unreasonably extravagant and pleas for rushing the work on estimates far beyond the provision made for it.

Good Citizenship Is Voluntary.

Compulsory primary elections is the latest remedy advanced by a Toledo statesman for the cure of "official infidelity," or dishonesty in public places. He argues that if every man could be compelled to assist in choosing party candidates, better men would be chosen and prevalent political evils would cease.

This view of the case cannot be sustained. It is based upon a great truth, namely, that the fountain heads of our government system are the caucus and primary. It does not follow that compulsory attendance would remove the evils from which the body politic suffers. The very foundation of republican institutions is individual volition. Compulsory attendance at primary elections would be an infraction of the fundamental principle. Good citizens ought to vote at the primaries and they should control the caucuses, but compulsory attendance at political functions will not make good citizens of the men who are careless of their public duties.

The need of the time is not compulsion, but an awakened public conscience that will move men to labor voluntarily for honest administration of the public business. As long as voters do not care enough about affairs of state to give them voluntary attention, there is nothing to be gained by driving them to the polls, for when there they would vote carelessly.

Park Site for Technic School.

Mr. D. F. Crawford's suggestion to the councils committee on polytechnic site that a part of Schenley park might be used for the purpose is worthy of most earnest consideration. The location named by Mr. Crawford is near the Murdoch entrance. A more suitable beginning would be made on what is known as "Flagstaff hill," a rather commanding eminence, regarded by visitors to the park as an ornament to be looked over from the Bigelow monument and not as a part of the public pleasure ground to be romped over. If more room was needed the buildings could be extended toward the Murdoch entrance.

Advantages that may be argued for this site are manifold. Nearness to the present library and Carnegie institute extension may be mentioned as one of the most important in the abstract, while the fact that the ground is owned by the city is of the utmost moment in the concrete situation to be faced. No money would need to be raised to buy the site. Of course, there may be objections on the part of Mr. Carnegie or his trustees, or others, to this solution of the problem that cannot be overcome, but until such appear the proposition should not be lost sight of. That hill would be more pleasant to look upon if surmounted by piles of architecture, surrounded by beautiful grounds.

As to the power of the city to set apart the ground for the proposed school, there can be no doubt. Carnegie institute stands upon ground secured for park purposes, and that upon which the extensions are to be built was condemned under the legal authority conferred upon the city to take private property for parks. The Bouquet street site of 11 acres could only be obtained under that law, and the 52-acre site in Bellefield would have to be bought, if at all, on the pretense that it was to be converted into a park. It is not a question of law, but one of expedience and public preference.

Senator McLaurin's Declination.

By declining the proffered appointment to the vacancy on the bench of the United States court of claims, Senator McLaurin has avoided the opposition to his confirmation which was threatened by Senator Tillman. The senior senator from South Carolina was determined that the junior senator should receive no such reward as a federal judgeship for his services to the administration, if he could prevent it, and he could be depended upon to make matters very unpleasant when the question of confirmation came up. This unseemly struggle has been avoided, however, and the country will think better of Senator McLaurin for declining the appointment, although President Roosevelt is sorry that he could not see his way clear to accept.

McLaurin was not actuated by fear of Tillman, but was influenced by a newspaper article which said that he had sold himself for the prospect of getting such an office as that offered to him. The president is of opinion that accusations of that kind are beneath notice. He appointed McLaurin because he believed that his senatorial experience and his career as attorney general of South Carolina would render him a good addition to the court of claims.

A Mistaken Observer.

Count Matasuka of Japan, who has recently been "in our midst," has been jollying the Vienese and other foreigners with predictions of American disaster. After visits to various European capitals he saw evidences that European countries had been affected by American expansion, and expressed the opinion "that they will be still more affected in the future." But he offsets this with forebodings that there is danger in America because of the "sudden expansion" and this, that and the other thing, that some day there will be a crash and a panic. As we have jealous rivals in Europe the count's fears will pass current there at their full value or more, but we venture the assertion, nevertheless, that they were not strong enough to induce him to sell short on our prospects before leaving us.

The count should have devoted more time to the United States. He could have been satisfied on matters that are evidently yet unsolved mysteries to him. For instance, he finds that "danger lurks in the banks' note issues," "perfectly safe in theory, because they are protected by a deposit of government bonds; yet in time of panic there is considerable difference between negotiable paper and cash." All of which is perhaps convincing to the count and the untutored foreigners, but amusing to Americans. Were everything else American as secure as the issues of our national banks there would be small cause for worry. Really, the count should come back and guess again. He has carried away some false impressions. So much error is mixed in with the truths he absorbed as to make his tour of investigation an unprofitable investment.

Protection Here and Abroad.

When Henry Labouchere questioned Premier Balfour in the house of commons regarding the possibility of the adoption of a protective policy, the query was not prompted by idle curiosity. The belief is growing in Great Britain that a protective tariff could be placed on quite a list of goods with beneficial results to the treasury and to business. Articles in ponderous weeklies and reviews prove that free trade is no longer a fetich that commands respectful homage from all sorts and conditions of Englishmen. Mr. Balfour replied that there was no ground for believing that the policy of the cabinet would be changed. Nevertheless, there was a distinct hope that the retirement of Salisbury and the accession of a new premier would be marked by some experimenting with protection for the purpose of seeing what the effect would be.

In the new Australian federation the question of protection or free trade is the great issue, and the Melbourne correspondent of the London Chronicle warns English business men having commercial relations with Australia to be prepared for a crisis in the antipodes as a result of the present conflict between the two houses of the federal parliament. A majority of the people of the federated states are firm believers in protection, and they have elected a large protection majority in the popular branch of the federated parliament. The free traders rely upon the senate, however, because the smaller states have the same strength in that house as the larger states, and it is in the smaller states that the free traders find their strength. The six senators representing Tasmania's 200,000 population exert the same influence over legislation as the six senators representing New South Wales' million and a half. The house of commons has framed a protective tariff, and the senate is now carefully going over the list with the intention of altering it from beginning to end. It is this conflict between the free trade senatorial majority and the protectionist majority in the house of representatives that endangers the stability of business in Australia.

It is just at this time, too, when the United States is enjoying the greatest prosperity ever known under a protective tariff, and free trade countries are wondering if they have not made a serious mistake, that Democratic orators like Mr. Vilas step to the front and denounce protection as the root of all evil, urging American voters to dig up the root.

Dangers of the Trolley.

Recent events have proven the single-track trolley road to be quite as full of danger as the single-track steam railroad of thirty or forty years ago. Despite elaborate systems of block signals, fatal collisions have occurred with alarming frequency in various parts of the country. Those who have been wrestling with the problem have found it easier to locate the sources of danger than to prescribe remedies for them.

A disaster in Massachusetts, investigated by the state board of railway commissioners, has exemplified the perils of one of the best arranged systems. It occurred because a large party going in one direction necessitated the use of several cars, run close together. The first set the safety signal for the car waiting to go in the opposite direction and the motorman was not notified that other cars were following. He ran out from the switch to an inevitable collision. This accident may lead to good results, however, for it has set on foot an inquiry to determine how the current may be automatically shut off from two cars approaching each other on the same line. This ought not to be an impossible problem, since Westinghouse has a third rail system which shuts off the current as the car passes and turns it on as the car covers the rail.

While the electricians are figuring out the means for making the switches inoperative for cars approaching each other from opposite directions they may as well provide against rear end collisions by shutting off current when cars approach too near in either direction. By the time that is done the leading interurban trolley managements may discover, as the railroads did, that the safest operation is on double lines of track.

THE PRESIDENT WELL GUARDED

Though Genial as a Citizen, He Has Found That Cranks Beset a President.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 22.

One of the amusements of New Yorkers this summer is to run over to Oyster Bay "to see the president." It is a short trip, comparatively, and a pleasant one. As a rule, the excursionist does not see the president and has his journey for his pains; but that is only a detail. With the president of the United States within an hour's ride of the city, and the knowledge that he is living the unostentatious life of any ordinary American gentleman in his country home, it would be strange indeed if a great many people did not seek an informal interview. With the exception of intimate friends, no one has been able to get at the president since his return from Pittsburgh. He remains at Sagamore Hill, which is some distance from Oyster Bay proper, and there is a guard of secret service men about the place which makes it impossible for an uninvited visitor to get past the cordon. In the old days, before Theodore Roosevelt became governor of New York state, and when he was simply a police commissioner in this city, he could be met at almost any hour of the day and far into the night; but things are different now. Personally, he is the same genial good fellow that he was then; but he has found that this is a world of cranks, and that the president of the United States is beset by them at all times and everywhere. Cranks cannot get near him now, and, what is more noticeable, no one else can see him, either. It is said that he was in New York city a day or two incognito on a matter of personal business, but if he was, no one recognized him. It is not impossible that he was here, however, for he used to make a practice of walking about the streets of New York to catch policemen neglecting their duty when he was police commissioner. There is always a great deal of gossip about the president in the hotels and cafes, and the principal observation to-night is that Representative Hepburn of Iowa, who drove to Sagamore Hill through a heavy rainstorm yesterday, assured President Roosevelt that the Republicans of Iowa are unanimously in favor of his re-nomination as head of the nation. Mr. Hepburn is one of the few men that have been able to get into the Roosevelt home, and his card of admission was the pleasant news he carried.

Book Lovers Fear No Germs.

The scare against circulating libraries which has been set afloat in this city lately does not seem to affect the borrowing of books to any great extent. It has been declared that books carry disease germs more readily than any other inanimate agent; but the circulating libraries which have been operating in New York and other large cities for the last year or two are doing a tremendous business, and if they spread disease the book-lover does not seem to mind it. This is a question that affects Pittsburgh quite as much as it does New York, by the way.

Arrival of Charles Frohman.

Charles Frohman, the "theatric Napoleon," is home again. He reached these shores today on the steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm, and he made straight for his offices in upper Broadway. There were scores of people waiting to see him, of course; but the rotund gentleman who holds the destinies of untold theatrical enterprises in the hollow of his chubby hand did not bother with anyone except his immediate assistants, and went into executive session with them for the day. The usual newspaper interview, which is part of his business system, was issued in the course of the day, so that the world may know all that he has accomplished while in Europe—or, at least, all that he chooses to tell. After that he went to a swell restaurant for dinner, and is there still as this is written.

The Other Side of Capt. Strong.

A newspaper man had the temerity to ask May Yohe today whether all this hubbub over her missing jewels was "for advertisement." She disdainfully ignored the query. So much has been printed about the bad behavior of Putnam Bradlee Strong in connection with Lady Francis Hope's jewels, that it may interest persons who never met him to know that in appearance and manner he is the ideal of a manly young American—I say this from personal knowledge—tall, athletic, full-voiced and genial. There is nothing of the cad or "bounder" in Putnam Bradlee Strong, and if he has many thousands of friends, all I can say is that it would be strange if he had not. A man who could be elected to a captaincy in the "Gallant Sixty-ninth regiment" of the National Guard of New York, defeating a full-blooded and exceedingly aggressive Irishman, in that regiment of Irishmen, must have something in him to attract men as well as women. Putnam Bradlee Strong did that, and a deuce of a ruction there was in the armory the night he did it; but half an hour after the announcement of the result of the balloting, the scores of Irishmen who had threatened to drink his heart's blood were drinking something much pleasanter at young Strong's expense, and swearing eternal brotherhood to him. That is the kind of man he is, whatever may be the truth of his affair with May Yohe.

New Armory in Prospect.

The "Gallant Sixty-ninth" has been promised a new armory for several years. The armory board met today and took definite action on the matter. Already $450,000 has been appropriated for the new building, but the board will ask at once for $100,000 more. This sum—more than half a million dollars—should pay for a very handsome home for the Sixty-ninth, one that will be a paralyzing contrast to the old barn over the market house at Third avenue and Eighth street, which the regiment has occupied for so many years.

Jerome Again After Lawbreakers.

It seemed like old times in the Ghetto to see District Attorney Jerome bustling in and out of his house in Rutgers street this morning. He got back from the west last night, but it was not until this morning that he was much in evidence outside the house. He plunged into his work today where he left it before setting out on his vacation, and he did it with characteristic energy. Lawbreakers will soon know that the district attorney is back, for he declares that he will get after them with unrelenting vigilance. One significant remark made by Mr. Jerome was this: "There is no state probably in the union," he said, "that depends so much on trusts and corporate interests as Colorado, and yet every man's hand there is against them. I believe that trusts and corporate interests should be regulated and restrained in some legal way; but out in Colorado the existence of corporations with large capital seems necessary for the promotion of business. In some parts of the state you could give a man all the land and all the mines he wants, and yet he could not make them pay, because it requires a large capital to develop the resources of the country."

Duty Before Comfort for MacArthur.

Gen. Arthur MacArthur, the new commander of the department of the east, finds that he would not have elbow-room on Governors island to direct preparations for the army and navy maneuvers next month; so he is in the gloomy Army building in Whitehall street with his aide-camp, Capt. Kernan, and an orderly. The rest of the clerical force will remain on Governors island. The fact that the general is willing to take up his quarters in the Army building instead of the much pleasanter place at his disposal on Governors island, indicates that he holds duty infinitely higher than his personal comfort.

The Story of a Pull.

There is a policeman, six foot four inches in height, on the Broadway squad, just below Madison square, who could tell an interesting story of political pull as it applies to the police force of New York city if he would. I happen to know the story and here it is: This young man was graduated from an up-state college a few years ago and went forth into the world for a career. He found his unusual height an obstacle to advancement, for, although he obtained several good positions in the mercantile world, he could not hold any of them. He was so tall and stout in proportion that he dwarfed everybody else about the place, and in each instance he was dropped without any definite reason, except that he was, literally, too big for his job. Someone suggested that he should try to get on the metropolitan police force. He sent an application to Theodore Roosevelt, who was at that time president of the police board only, and was told to present himself personally. As soon as Mr. Roosevelt had looked him over he sent him to the civil service board for examination, which the applicant, as a college man, naturally passed with flying colors, and he was appointed on the force forthwith. In two months he was one of the famous Broadway squad. He remained there until Tammany obtained control of the police department, and then, as a "Roosevelt man," he was shoved back, and found himself in a distant part of Staten Island, as far from Broadway as he could be put. He tried ineffectually to get back to civilization until a lucky idea occurred to him. He worked his own political pull up-state and got hold of Tammany through Democratic friends at Albany. He is on Broadway now, and, under the present administration is pretty sure to stay there. If Tammany should win next year he will have to key up his "pull" again, or he may find himself at Hunters Point, guarding a glue factory, next time.

Effect of a Tailors' Strike.

With 5,000 tailors on strike, the lower East Side has a sort of holiday appearance nowadays. Go through the Ghetto and you will see a great many pale-faced men in their Sunday clothes standing at corners and talking earnestly, while others can be found in the saloons, also talking. As a whole they are a quiet, inoffensive crowd, but do not look as poverty-stricken as sweatshop workers should, according to the popular impression.

Denouement of a Slumming.

A few weeks ago a man from Michigan (name Presser) went a-slumming in the Bowery with a young woman who was said to be a writer looking for "local color." Presser and his companion were robbed and clubbed in a tough restaurant about 1 o'clock in the morning and wound up at a police station. The Gazette published the particulars at the time. Now it turns out that the literary young woman with Presser was his stenographer, and his wife has just obtained a decree of divorce from him in Detroit. He seems to have got the worst of the slumming expedition all around.

Devery May Lose His Corner.

It is rumored that the police will get after "Big Chief" Devery in the Ninth district. His political opponents say that he blocks Eighth avenue with his crowds and his fireworks, and that he interferes with the good order of the locality. It seems hardly possible that the police would dare to interfere with the movements of the man who not long ago could "break" any or all of them; but politics makes strange changes, and it may be that Devery's opponents have a stronger pull with the police nowadays than he has. It does not seem likely, and Devery pooh-poohs the idea; but you never can tell.

Sage Too Busy to Mind Accidents.

Russell Sage has suffered no ill effects from his accident of yesterday when he fell from a Broadway car in front of the Equitable building. He went to his office today as usual. When asked about the accident this morning, Mr. Sage said: "I have almost forgotten about the fall yesterday. It was nothing serious, and, besides, I am too busy to bother about such an unimportant matter."

Peril in a Hansom Cab.

Attention has been called to the dangers that threaten passengers in hansom cabs in New York. It admitted that a hansom is a nasty thing in which to be in a collision. You cannot get out easily, and if the horse happens to stumble you have a strong chance of being hurled head-first over the dashboard. If the glass window is down, as it is usually when it rains, you will take a header through the glass and have splinters in your head. The accident to Joseph Chamberlain in London has raised the discussion over the hansom cab in New York, and it is raging with considerable activity. At the same time, you may see as many hansoms bowling up and down Fifth avenue and Broadway as ever. If one does not like to ride in a hansom cab drawn by a horse, why not take an automobile?

Oyster Bay Evolution of Goose-Grab.

New Yorkers are practicing the "Rooseveit handshake." It was invented at Oyster Bay, but, of course, soon found its way to Broadway. You use it only when saying goodby to your sweetheart or wife, or, perhaps, your sister. The man takes the woman's hand by the tips of the fingers, and lifts it on high. Then he bends over—gracefully if he can—and kisses her fingers. The operation is extremely fetching, especially to the irreverent wit, who is likely to find some coarse witticism to express his feelings. It is an amplification of the old-fashioned high handshake, which used to be called by the Philistines the "goose-grab."

The Fastest Ferryboat Coming.

The Central railroad of New Jersey intends to have the fastest ferryboat around New York if possible. The company has ordered at the Cramp yards, in Philadelphia, a steamboat that will be able to make 25 knots an hour and will make the trip from the foot of Rector street, Manhattan, to Atlantic Highlands, N. J., in 55 minutes. The Monmouth, which is owned by the Central railroad and is supposed to be one of the fastest boats now plying in the waters hereabouts, can cover the distance in one hour and seven minutes to one hour and twelve minutes.

KAISER'S STATUE CAUSED TROUBLE

Barmen Burghers Think He Might Have Waited for Posthumous Honors.

By The MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

As a general rule it is only after people are dead that statues are erected in their honor for the purpose of perpetuating their memory. But Emperor William has just been portrayed in marble at Barmen on the Rhine under circumstances which have given rise to a good deal of talk in highest quarters.

Barmen has a "hall of fame," a somewhat pretentious building erected in recent years by means of public subscriptions for the purpose of commemorating old Emperor William and his son, the late Emperor Frederick.

Inasmuch as the so-called "ruhmeshalle," or temple of fame, was so arranged that the statue of the old emperor occupied the wall facing the entrance, and the monument to Emperor Frederick the right wall of the temple, it became necessary to place some pieces of sculpture against the left wall in order to prevent the interior of the building from having a top-sided appearance.

The committee in charge of the affair determined to fill this vacant place against the left wall with an allegorical group of sculpture. On the designs being submitted to the emperor for his approval he asked for an explanation of the object of this piece of statuary and was told by the committee it was merely temporary and that after his death it would be removed and a statue of himself put there in its place.

The kaiser intimated his thorough disapproval of the allegorical group, prohibited it by virtue of that law which vests in the crown the right of determining the character of all the public monuments in the kingdom of Prussia, and added that inasmuch as it was his statue that was to eventually occupy the vacant spot he would himself select the artist.

Competent Artist Engaged.

Shortly afterward the committee received news from Berlin that Prof. Karl Regas, brother of the famous sculptor, Reinhold Regas, had been entrusted with the completion of the statue, and the news was published far and wide that the emperor was making a present thereof to the ancient city of Barmen.

In due course the statue arrived, but was followed two days later by a bill from the sculptor intimating that the payment due for his work amounted to 20,000 marks. As the money at the disposal of the committee was almost entirely exhausted, a fresh assessment of the subscribers had to be made, and there was so much publicly expressed illfeeling in connection with the misunderstanding that when the moment came for the inauguration of the statue, which is a very handsome affair, some 15 feet high, representing the emperor in the uniform of a general of infantry, with a mantle of the Order of the Black Eagle, the governor of the province and several of the other principal authorities of the district took the pretext of official tours and indisposition for absenting themselves from the ceremony, while the petition addressed to Berlin requesting that the crown prince might preside at the unveiling of the statue was met with a very curt answer on the part of the grand master of the household, that in view of the comment that had been made at Barmen, and the remarks published there concerning the statue, no member of the reigning family would put in an appearance at the function.

Emperor William has already given a number of his marble and bronze busts to relatives as well as to subjects, whom he was anxious to honor. But this piece of sculpture at Barmen is his first full figure statue, and it is a most successful bit of work. It is to be regretted that by reason of the misunderstanding there should have been so much unpleasantness in connection with its inauguration, since both to the emperor and the people of Barmen it will always serve to recall an unpleasant, rather than an agreeable episode.

Mr. Malapropos May Retire.

Among the changes in the British government administration in connection with the reconstruction of the cabinet consequent upon the accession to the premiership of Arthur Balfour, it is probable that Lord Cranbourne will be transferred from the post of under secretary of state of the department of foreign affairs to some office where the tactlessness of his utterances in parliament will be productive of less harm than that which he has caused until now. His contemptuous reference in the house of commons to the British alliance with Japan, the other day, was thoroughly uncalled for, and has given deep offense to the high-spirited subjects of the mikado, who are at a loss to understand the motives of the unmerited affront which has been placed upon them by the viscount—an affront which cannot but weaken the bond between the nations.

It is in keeping, however, with his similarly foolish remarks in the house of commons last winter concerning the role played by England and the foreign powers at Washington at the time of the American war with Spain, remarks which virtually compelled the German government, in self-defense, to make attacks upon the late Lord Pauncefote, who was placed thereby in an altogether false light in the eyes of the American people. Lord Pauncefote bitterly resented the position in which he had been put in the matter, and there is no doubt the worry and annoyance in connection with the affair aggravated the condition of his health and hastened his death.

Lord Cranbourne, whose principal merit is that he is the oldest son and heir of the marquis of Salisbury, has never been popular either with his party or in the house of commons, and would never have been appointed as the mouthpiece of the department of foreign affairs in the lower house had it not been for his relationship to the premier who has just gone out of office, indeed, ever since he entered parliament he has been renowned for saying the wrong thing at the wrong time, and has won for his father and for his party far more enemies than friends.

Remarkable Coincidences.

It is indeed a singularly strange coincidence that Sir Frederick Johnstone, one of the lifelong friends and most intimate cronies of King Edward, should have been stricken by illness at the same time as his sovereign, the malady being of the same character; that he should have been subjected to very much the same operation at a day or two interval from the date on which Edward VII. was subjected to the surgeon's knife, and that he should now be on the high road to recovery in the same way as his friend, the king. For Sir Frederick, who has been a close and constant associate of Edward VII. since they were at Oxford together more than 40 years ago, was in 1870 seized with typhoid fever at the same moment as the then prince of Wales in 1870-71, and like his royal master was snatched on that occasion from the very jaws of death, after all hope of his recovery had been abandoned.

Sir Frederick has twice won the Derby, on the last occasion with the celebrated horse "Common." He is known at Sandringham by the name of "Freddie," is exceedingly wealthy, a considerable portion of his fortune being derived from the United States, where the Johnstone family still possesses a large amount of territory, acquired by his ancestor, Capt. George Johnstone of the royal navy, who was governor of Florida in the eighteenth century and who wedded a local heiress, Charlotte Dee by name.

Sir Frederick is a claimant to the dormant marquisate of Annandale, has a beautiful place at Nice, where he has often had King Edward as his guest, and is popularly regarded as responsible for the king's nickname of "Tum-Tum."

THE DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Joseph Mitchell.

Mrs. Adelaine B. Mitchell, 60 years old, wife of Alderman Joseph Mitchell, of the Seventeenth ward, died yesterday morning at the family home, No. 242 Forty-fourth street, of typhoid fever. She was born in North Fayette township and was a daughter of David McKee. She was married to Mr. Mitchell in 1865, and three years later moved to Forty-fourth street, where she had since resided. Mrs. Mitchell for 20 years was a manager of the United Presbyterian orphans' home. She was a member of the Seventh United Presbyterian church, and for a number of years was president of the missionary societies of the church and an active worker for charitable organizations. She is survived by her husband and five sons: H. Walton Mitchell, a member of the firm firm of Lyon, McKee & Mitchell; T. Edgar, Joseph C., Frank W. L. and Byron C. Mitchell.

Samuel T. Marshall.

BUTLER, PA., July 22.—(Special.)—Ex-County Commissioner Samuel T. Marshall died at his home in this city this evening, aged 68. He was a native of Armstrong county and was born and reared near Parkers Landing. He served two terms as clerk to the county commissioners in this county and one term as commissioner. He is survived by his widow and three children: A. A. and W. F. Marshall of Butler and Mrs. Walter Mechling of Colfax, Wash.

Mrs. Anna Morrison.

Mrs. Anna Morrison, widow of James Morrison, died on Monday at her home in Wurtemberg, Pa., after an illness of 10 days from heart disease. Mrs. Morrison was a member of the Wurtemberg United Presbyterian church, and is survived by three children: Dr. W. A. Morrison of Struthers, O.; Dr. R. M. Morrison of Youngstown, O., and Mrs. Minnie Telford, wife of the Rev. M. D. Telford of New Sheffield, Pa.

Mrs. Carl F. Buchmann.

Mrs. Emma Buchmann, 29 years old, wife of Dr. Carl F. Buchmann, died yesterday morning at Athens, Wis., where she had resided for four years. She was a native of Germany and came to the United States when 14 years old. She lived in Main street, Lawrenceville, with her uncle, C. F. Klopfer, until her marriage four years ago. Her remains will be brought to Pittsburgh for interment.

Gen. Allen T. Wikoff.

COLUMBUS, O., July 22.—Gen. Allen T. Wikoff, state canal commissioner, died today, aged 77. He held many political offices. At one time he was secretary of state for Ohio and later adjutant general. For three years he was pension agent of the Columbus district.

PERSONALS.

"Much good will undoubtedly come from the special session of the Ohio state legislature that convened today at Columbus," said Gen. Charles Dick of Akron, Republican state chairman of Ohio, at Union station last evening. "The purpose of this convention is to form a uniform system of municipal government to apply to all cities in the state. The state supreme court has decided that all classifications of cities are unconstitutional and hence the government of from 70 to 80 of the Ohio municipalities, divided as they are into classes according to population, etc., are illegal. The court has given until October 1 to bring these governments back under the constitution. Gov. Nash is leading in the work of formulating the organic law for these municipalities. His experience as attorney general and on the supreme bench has made him unusually familiar with the state law and he is well qualified to deal with this. It is hoped to formulate as perfect a basis for city government as modern experience and needs can suggest." Gen. Dick, who is major-general of the Ohio national guard, inquired closely about the recent encampment of the Pennsylvania guardsmen. He said he had planned to go to Gettysburg, but the encampment of the First brigade of the Ohio guard at Newark, O., had come the same week, so that he could not get away. Accompanying Gen. Dick were Capt. Joseph Limrick and J. P. Chapin of Buckeye post, No. 12, G. A. R., of Akron. Both are going to Washington to arrange for the accommodations of their command at the coming G. A. R. encampment in October in that city. Gen. Dick said his visit to Washington this time is purely on departmental duties as a member of congress from the Akron district.

Alexander Nuber, Austro-Hungarian consul at Pittsburgh, has been appointed consul at Chicago, and consul general for the 19 western states and three territories between the Mississippi river and the Rocky mountains. Hans von Schwegel, the present consul at Chicago, is transferred to Cincinnati and Jacob Wein, former vice consul at Pittsburgh, is named to succeed Mr. Nuber here.

Charles Smaltz, senior commander of Lieut. H. N. Lower post, No. 82, G. A. R., of Roaring Springs, Pa., was at Union station last evening en route to visit a son and daughter at Rudolph, Wood county, O. Mr. Smaltz is a veteran of the Ninety-first Pennsylvania regiment, and is well known among G. A. R. men of this state.

The Rev. A. W. Casselman, field secretary of the foreign mission band of the Reformed church, left yesterday for a tour of Japan and China. As stated in The Gazette recently, Mr. Casselman, on his return, will make Pittsburgh the headquarters of the Reformed missionary board.

The Rev. A. H. Walker, pastor of the Tarentum Presbyterian church, will deliver his farewell sermon next Sunday and leave the same week for Hollidaysburg, where he has accepted a chair in the seminary. Mr. Walker has been pastor of the Tarentum church for 18 years.

FIRST THING TO DO, SAYS TAYLOR, PROVIDE METERS

Well Known Pennsylvania Engineer Talks About City's Water Supply.

HAS STUDIED PROBLEM

No True Estimate Can Be Made as to Cost of Filtration Until Matter of Waste Has Been Eliminated—Private Capital Ready to Act.

Engineers who are watching with interest the unsatisfactory water supply of Pittsburgh and the delay in meeting two important needs—more water and purer water—hold that the city should lose no time in taking the "bull by the horns," as it were, and going to the mountains for a sufficient supply of fresh and pure water. This they suggest at whatever cost.

It is pointed out that for the thickly populated sections of Europe the water supply is almost always brought from the pure sources in the mountains.

Those who have studied the problem urge as the first move that the city arrange to introduce the meter system, as effective in cutting off all waste. With this they contend that those who are struggling with the problem would have some better means of determining what the city requires. With every flowing stream, such as the Allegheny river, it is pointed out that conditions are different from every other, and that a system of filtration that would serve for one would be useless for all the others.

Waste of Water Must Be Eliminated.

Edward B. Taylor, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania Lines West and president of the water commission of Sewickley borough, who has made a study of the water question at home and abroad in connection with many experts, said yesterday:

"The first thing to do is to eliminate the waste of water. As I recall it, the estimate of the Pittsburgh filtration commission is that an expenditure of something upward of $600,000 would provide for the installation of the necessary meters. The cost to consumers can readily be gauged so that for their necessary supply they will be paying something less than the present fixed rent, and a vast amount of water will be saved.

"This has already been demonstrated as true in our work at Sewickley. We are so placed there that with a filtration crib of the old style we have practically a natural filtration. The present filtration crib there is 400 feet long, 16 feet wide and 5 feet deep.

Meters Economized Consumption.

"Our consumption of water has been about 800,000 gallons a day. In the past year meters were placed in the hotels, livery stable, laundries and other plants which are the heaviest consumers. This has already economized consumption so that there is a substantial lessening in the amount of water pumped, while the number of consumers has increased I cannot say just how much less water is required.

"In an ordinary house, with the meter system installed, the cost of a year's supply of water should not be more than $10. The meter system seems to me the logical first step to meet the problem for Pittsburgh. It is money thrown away to filter water to waste.

"The very best system would be the bringing of the pure water from the mountains, as suggested by the filtration commission. This, I understand, would cost upward of $16,000,000 and the city hesitates to undertake it. A corporation could be formed which would erect the lines and sell the water.

No Politics Wanted.

"It is of the utmost importance that some provision should be made at once to give the city pure water. There should be no politics in the matter or anything that might lead to the intimations of a 'take-off' for somebody.

"Sand filtration has accomplished wonders in other cities. In Pittsburgh we have an appalling death rate by reason, largely, of typhoid fever caused by the use of impure water. Sand filtration, where it is feasible, will eliminate 90½ per cent of the typhoid fever microbes. Introduction of sand filtration at Lawrence, Mass., and Albany, N. Y., has reduced the typhoid fever death rate fully 80 per cent. Such a reduction would be of great importance in Pittsburgh with its high death rate.

"At Albany they have seven filter beds, each covering seven-tenths of an acre. The nominal rate of successful operation of these beds is 3,000,000 gallons daily to the acre. This, for the system, would apparently make the aggregate nearly 15,000,000 gallons. The cost of this plant was $500,000.

Limit of Pittsburgh's Cost.

"Pittsburgh, with a system of meters installed, should get along with 20,000,000 gallons a day, and the installation of a sand filtration system should not cost more than $2,000,000. This is leaving leeway for the difference in conditions.

"When I was in Belgium several years ago, I was attracted by the thorough system of filtration employed at Antwerp. It is what is called the Anderson process, and is apparently rather complicated, but the cost of the installation is comparatively little greater than for other systems. We were considering this for Sewickley, but our practically natural filtration obviated its necessity.

"The reeking water of the Scheldt is utilized and the system is so perfect that the water is used on the passenger liners running between Antwerp and New York in preference to any other water. The river water is run to a series of settling basins for only one hour each day. From there it is conveyed to a well, operating as an Archimedes screw, and then to a battery of revolving cylinders. These cylinders have a charge of coke and iron filings, which is renewed as occasion demands and the revolving cylinders are being constantly fed with jets of air, the oxygen of which eats up much of the organic matter which would otherwise remain."

MORE REORGANIZATION.

Phoenix Galvanizing Co. Enlarges Scope and Will Occupy New Works.

The Phoenix Galvanizing Company, limited, operating in Duquesne way, is to be reorganized as the Phoenix Galvanizing and Manufacturing Company. Application will be made for a Pennsylvania charter on August 8 through Attorneys Watterson & Reid.

The company has purchased a site of an acre for new works along the Allegheny railroad terminals near Fifty-sixth street, and it is planned to erect new works there in a short time. The new company will be incorporated with paid-up capital of $50,000 and with the following directors: George Bingham, chairman of the present limited partnership; Frederick D. Ide, treasurer; William B. Moore, Michael Bird and Morton Chase.

WILL ADD LARGELY TO STOCK ISSUE

AMERICAN WINDOW GLASS CO. PLANNING FOR MACHINERY.

Will Secure Absolute Control of Blowing Device by Converting Its $13,000,000 Common Stock Into Second 7 Per Cent Preferred and Issuing New Common.

Executives of the American Window Glass Company have laid plans, which are soon to be presented to the directors, for the conversion of the present issue of $13,000,000 common stock into second preferred stock, and the issuance of a new lot of common stock to be used in securing exclusive rights for the United States in the window glass blowing machine, which is owned by some of the officers of the company.

The plans will have to be passed upon by the directors.

The purpose of the plan is to secure for the American Window Glass Company absolute control in the blowing machine for all time. This will not be an absolute ownership, but the company will stand alone in this country as the first producer of machine-made window glass.

The rights in the invention may be put out on a royalty abroad, but those interested say that this will not admit of the importation of the machine-made glass. With the use of the machine abroad the cost cannot be made much less than here, and, with the freight and tariff cost added, importation machine glass will be impossible.

Those interested say that it is already a certainty that the machine operation will be taken up at many of the factories of the American company, and it may be the only production of the company. It eliminates all the skilled labor up to the flattener. It is expected to cut the cost of production nearly in half, besides making inroads into the markets of the other producers and causing a lowering in the present high-priced labor of these interests.

The new second preferred stock will provide for the payment of 7 per cent cumulative dividends. This stock will be exchanged for the present issue of common stock, on which dividends at the rate of 5 per cent a year are being paid. The basis of exchange will be arranged partially in reference to the market value of the present issue of common stock.

Officers of the American company who now own the window glass blowing machine rights some time ago refused an offer of $10,000,000 to sell these rights. This will have some bearing as to the amount of the new common stock that the company will issue to secure the absolute control of the machine operations in this country.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Social Diversions of the Day in the Town by the Sea—The Jewish Chautauqua.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 22.—(Special.)—A theater party, a trolly excursion and an afternoon with Sousa and his band on the Steeplechase pier constituted the social diversions today. Rear Admiral Cipriano Andrade, a retired officer, will be a guest at the banquet tomorrow night.

At the Jewish Chautauqua session today Homer Folks, commissioner of charities in New York city, delivered an address on "New Methods in the Care of Destitute Children."

Grand Atlantic—Mrs. Will Devlin, Carl K. Devlin, New Castle; Miss Minnie E. Carver, Altoona.

Gadsby—Hester Wilson, Pittsburgh.

Holmhurst—W. H. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. West and children, Pittsburgh.

Royal Palace—Mary Hawkins, L. Hirsch, Pittsburgh.

Scarborough—W. C. Watkins and daughter, Maude A. Madden, Jessie Tarrell, Pittsburgh.

Jackson—L. G. Harrick, Johnstown; D. E. Carll, Jeannette; W. J. Patterson, Pittsburgh.

Malatesta—Joseph Dolan, Mrs. Florence Anderson, Pittsburgh.

Normandie—William Surran, Pittsburgh.

Ponce de Leon—Fred Diffenderfer, Pittsburgh; G. Morton, Wheeling.

Haddon Hall—Mr. and Mrs. L. Smith, Pittsburgh.

New Holland—J. P. Wescott and wife, Pittsburgh.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Prof. Barnes Would Give Women Ballot and Insist on Its Use.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 22.—(Special.)—The national council of principals and superintendents is now in session at Chautauqua. Prof. Earl Barnes of Philadelphia today gave a practical talk to teachers, in which he spared neither man nor women. He said:

"The great trouble with the teaching profession is that there is no solidarity in it. One man is making an experiment in one town, another man in another town, and neither confides in the other. It is my dream that teachers shall stand together as physicians do. They consider it a much greater crime for a physician to lie to another physician than to any other man. If teachers were so united, our influence would be tremendous. We could in a few years make all the Americans anarchists. Christians or anything we choose."

Prof. Barnes blames the women not a little for this lack of solidarity.

"Women will not stand for solidarity," said he. "Women's clubs are remedying this fact in a measure; but whichever side of a question is put first to a large body of women, that side is carried. They will not vote down anything. If I could I would give women the ballot tomorrow, but I would demand that she use her right. If she didn't, I would fine her. If she didn't pay her fine, I would imprison her."

Liquor Licenses Transferred.

The following liquor license transfers were granted: Robert L. McMunn, No. 230 Island avenue, McKees Rocks, to B. J. Bumhart; Jacob Fross, Main and Nineteenth streets, Sharpsburg, to William E. Shoulthise; George C. Rote, No. 186 Forty-third street, to Joseph A. Klaron; E. T. Heinemann and Edwin Bluthardt, No. 12 Market street, to Edwin Bluthardt; J. M. Schafer, No. 1100 Carson street, to Thomas Folanski. The transfer of the license of Stany Murholski, No. 1108 Braddock avenue, Braddock, to George Szech, was refused. The application of George P. and John Goettmann, Nos. 336 and 344 Diamond street, for the taking of W. J. Lungenheim as a partner, was withdrawn, as the matter had not been published and the bar had not been closed. After July 26 no more applications will be received until August 30.

Society

INVITATIONS were issued a few days ago by Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. Kelly of New York for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Kathleen Gertrude Kelly, and Orlando Paul Metcalf of Pittsburgh. The wedding will take place at their home, No. 350 West Seventy-first street, on Saturday afternoon, August 2.

This will be the second wedding in the well-known Metcalf family of this city within two months. Mr. Metcalf's sister, Miss Ellen Mendenhall Metcalf, and Henry Tod of Edinburgh, Scotland, having been married in June.

Mr. Metcalf is the son of William Metcalf, a well-known steel manufacturer. He was an usher at his sister's wedding. Though the intimate friends of the Metcalf family knew of Mr. Metcalf's engagement to Miss Kelly, no announcement of the date for the wedding had been made.

Here and There.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. O'Neil of Penn avenue, East End, have been spending several weeks at the Oriental hotel, Manhattan Beach.

Mrs. Harris Buchanan, who went abroad in May, arrived in New York last week, and at once came to Pittsburgh. Mrs. Buchanan made an extensive tour of Europe, visiting France, Germany and Switzerland, and enjoyed a coaching trip through the British Isles.

Mrs. M. E. van Wagonen, supervisor of drawing in the Pittsburgh schools, is in New York this summer and is taking a special summer course at the Columbia university in her line of work.

Miss Jennie S. Davis, a teacher in the Homewood public school, is pursuing a summer course of study at Columbia university, New York city.

Miss Edith M. James of Frazier street, Oakland, returned last week from Wayland, O., where she has been visiting cousins.

Miss Adah M. Gerdes is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter, Newport, R. I. Mr. and Mrs. Hostetter this season are occupying the Phinney cottage.

Miss Frances E. Cohen has gone to Buffalo, intending to visit in Canada and in the Adirondacks before coming home to Pittsburgh.

More Children for the Home.

Today another lot of children from the city will arrive at the Sewickley Fresh Air home, near Sewickley. There will be 55 children, and three mothers with babies. They are mostly from the Woods Run district, Allegheny, and the women in charge of them will be Mrs. Frank Hutchinson, Mrs. Frank Semple and Mrs. Dewitt B. Nettleton. Everything is running along very nicely at the new home in Sewickley. Children who are sick and weakly when they arrive are always returned to the city in a greatly improved condition. Many of the children are supplied with clothing to take with them and a great many charitable deeds are done by the managers besides the two weeks' visit for each child.

Off to Canada.

Yankanuck, the latest Canadian island to be purchased by Pittsburgh men, is the destination of a party which leaves today. It will include the owners of the island and their families, the Hon. William H. Graham of Allegheny, Mrs. Graham, Miss Elizabeth Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kopp and family, Talbut C. Graham, William T. Graham and Lesley S. Graham, Dr. J. Guy McCandless, Mrs. McCandless, Guy P. McCandless, Dr. Walter C. McCandless, Alexander W. McCandless, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ward, Miss Bessie Ward, Harry W. Ward, James G. Ward, Dr. and Mrs. Hiram DePuy, W. S. Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holland, Miss Marie Holland and E. R. Dowler and family of Braddock.

The party will go direct to Pentanguishene, Canada, and there take a steamer for Yankanuck at the mouth of the moon river, in the Georgia Bay district. The party will remain for three weeks at the club house which has just been completed.

Mrs. Gusky's Annual Boat Excursion.

Mrs. Gusky gave her 18th annual boat excursion for the children of the Gusky orphanage yesterday. The 400 children from that institution were accompanied by the children from the Episcopal church home; the Colored Orphans' home, in Allegheny; St. Joseph's Orphan asylum, Troy hill; the United Presbyterian Orphans home, and the Ridge Avenue Orphan asylum, Allegheny. Five hundred children enjoyed the excursion provided by Mrs. Gusky. The steamer, Mayflower left the wharf at 9:30 o'clock and returned late in the afternoon. Levi D. Wolf was in charge of the excursion. He was assisted by Rabbi Samuels, Fred Monk, William Jacobs, Charles Anglioh, John Littell and Edward Swindell. Accompanying Mrs. Gusky were her children, Mrs. Danziger and friends of the various institutions represented. The Second Brigade band furnished the music. Beside the picnic dinner, each one received a box of candy.

Things Are Gay at Seabright.

According to the social chronicles in a number of eastern papers, the social life at Seabright, N. J., is full of interest. Two prominent Pittsburgh families have cottages at that resort. Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Holcomb and Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Dalzell, of Ridge avenue, Allegheny. The family of the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Geo. John M. Cook, a cousin of Willis F. McCook, and well known in Pittsburgh, are prominent residents of Seabright. The Misses McCook recently entertained Miss Alice Roosevelt. They have at Seabright, among their other social sets, what is known as the Presbyterian set, whose members, notably the Alexanders, Grahams and McCooks, were among the pioneers at Seabright.

Sewickley Society Notes.

This afternoon Miss Evelyn Muller will entertain with a pretty little porch party at her home, "The Shelf," situated back of Sewickley, and overlooking the entire valley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gaston entertained a party at their home in Bank street, Sewickley, last evening. There were about 20 present. The Arion quartet of Sewickley sang several selections during the evening.

Golden Wedding Celebrated.

A notable event yesterday was the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crouse, two of Johnstown's oldest residents. The celebration began in the morning at 8 o'clock, when nuptial mass was said for the aged couple in St. John's Catholic church. During the day Mr. and Mrs. Crouse received many congratulations and presents. At night they gave a dinner party to many of their friends. Among the prominent persons present were Judge F. J. O'Connor and the Very Rev. John Boyle, V. G., pastor of St. John's.

McDonald—Van Ryn.

Thomas A. Van Ryn, a popular young railroad man, and Miss Anna I. McDonald, of No. 704 South avenue, Wilkinsburg, were married yesterday morning at the Catholic church, Wilkinsburg, the Rev. Father A. A. Lambing officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Van Ryn are now at home at No. 1409 Hill avenue, Wilkinsburg.

Notes of Society.

The first annual lawn fete given by St. Brigid's usher club will be held tomorrow evening at Kenwood lawn, Larimer avenue, East End, from 6 o'clock until 12.

The young men of Emanuel Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny, will give a boat excursion on the "Beaver" this evening. The boat will leave the foot of Market street at 7:46 p. m.

A benefit boat excursion was given last evening on the steamer Mayflower, under the auspices of Miss Harriet L. Smith. Miss Smith is a blind girl and was assisted in entertaining her guests by a number of well-known musicians.

Invitations have been issued for a series of four subscription garden parties under the auspices of the Brighton Country club, Allegheny, which will be held on Friday evenings, July 25, August 22, September 19 and October 17.

SELLING AGENCY FORMED.

New Union Ice Company to Handle Product of All the Other Ice Companies.

Representatives of leading ice producing interests of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and some of the near boroughs, met yesterday at the office of Attorney A. W. Duff and furthered arrangements for the formation of the Union Ice Company under the laws of New Jersey, which is to become the selling agency of all.

Another meeting will be held within a week at which the organization will be completed, officers named and the capitalization definitely fixed. The opening of business of the new company will probably be on August 1.

Each of the producing interests will take stock in the selling agency company in proportion to its production, and the agreement provides that each shall deliver on the warehouse platforms a certain amount of ice each day. The new company will buy this ice at a certain price and handle all deliveries, which are expected to be more satisfactory to consumers by reason of avoiding long hauls. Within the week several of the concerns will take final action on the matter.

The companies which are expected to participate are: The Consolidated Ice Company of Pittsburgh, Allegheny Ice Company of Allegheny, Consumers Ice Company of Allegheny, Standard Ice Company of Allegheny, Cyphers Ice and Provision Company of Pittsburgh, Penn Ice, Heat and Power Company of Wilkinsburg, Citizens Ice Company of Pittsburgh, Liberty Ice Company of East Liberty, Pittsburgh Ice Company of East Liberty and the Valley Ice Company of Sharpsburg.

Deputy Accidently Killed.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 22.—James Thompson, a deputy at the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company's Sugar Notch colliery, was accidentally killed today by William Jones, also a deputy. Jones was trying to get a cartridge out of his gun when the trigger fell and the bullet struck Thompson.

WEISSER'S NECLIGEE SHIRT SALE

Begins Tomorrow (Thursday) Morning.

DO NOT COME TODAY—TOMORROW'S THE TIME.

The men of these two cities are now invited to come to Weisser's Sample Sale on the jump. If you can't come yourselves, send your wives or your mothers. There is going to be a hot time in the shirt department. It is going to be the biggest Sensation Sale of Negligee Shirts ever known, and you want to get here quick. Our Negligee Shirt Sale last year made a record. But this is going to be a bigger and a better sale. If you were here last year you won't need any further invitation—you will come early, and you will be delighted with the opportunity to buy the very best Negligee Shirts on the Market for less than the cost of the material. You know our reputation. You always get what you come for when you come to Weisser's.

What! 50 Cents? Yes, That's Right.

Woven Madras Shirts (these are NOT prints), in all the new colors, stripes and figures; also plain whites; men's sizes, 13½ to 17; boys' sizes, 12 to 14; worth just about double Weisser's Sample Sale price of..... 50c

The shirts included in this 50c lot are by no means the kind of shirts that other stores put on the bargain counter at 50c. They are all well made. They have packet sleeves, and no one need be afraid of getting a 14 size body with a 17 size neckband, as sometimes occurs in so-called bargain sale goods. These shirts are as carefully and honestly made as any costing four times our sample sale price of 50c. But it's up to you to get here in time.

Men With Big Necks, Here's One at 25c.

Men with big necks—those who can wear a 16, 16½ or 17 collar—will thank their lucky stars on account of this bargain. We have these three sizes in one lot of 50c, 75c and $1.00 shirts, slightly soiled and mussed from handling, and every one of them will go at Weisser's Sample Sale Price of..... 25c

75 Cents for These? That's It, Exactly.

We have set aside one very large lot of shirts, every one of which is made of Anderson's imported madras. These shirts, as everybody knows, sell everywhere at $1.25 to $1.50, and are exceptional values at that; sizes 14 to 18; if you hurry you can pick just what you want from this lot at Weisser's Sample Sale Price of..... 75c

The Dollar Shirts Include Regular $3.00 Values.

Now here is the bargain of bargains, the surprise of surprises. We have bunched all our high-grade shirts. We mean just what we say. We have placed in this lot all the shirts of the higher grades that we have in stock, including fine whites, with beautifully pleated bosoms, zephyrs, and the finest grades of imported madras; sizes 14 to 18; values $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00; stylish dressers will please note that they can now take their pick of any of these shirts at Weisser's Sample Sale Price of..... $1

Here is one for the Boys that will cause many Mothers much joy:

Boys' Shirts worth 50c, 75c and $1.00, slightly mussed from handling on the counters; sizes 13 and 13½. Weisser's Sample Sale Price..... 25c

Come any old way—walk, ride or run—but don't send mail orders, 'cause we can't fill 'em. Too many live fellows will be here to get the Shirts—mail orders would reach us too late. Be wise—and COME.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, July 22.—Patsy Donovan's patched-up band of Cardinals went to pieces today before the onslaught of their unconquerable foes, the Pirates. No matter how fine an article of the national game the Donovanites may be playing, they always go to pieces when the champions appear on the scene. After playing a series of 10 or 15 brilliant games they make a most miserable showing against the fast and aggressive work of the pennant winners.

Errors and dumb plays were the rule today on the Cardinals' side and the champions did not play their usual clean game. Tut they did not need to. Starting off with a run in the first and a run in the third, they were on the anxious seat but one short inning. That was the fifth, when the Cardinals dropped into a little batting rally, and, aided by a couple of errors, drove in three runs.

The Lead Was a Short One.

The lead was retained less than five minutes. Coming to bat first in the sixth, Burke singled and stole second. Conroy singled to center and Burke scored. O'Connor struck out, but Phillippe tripped to deep right field and Conroy scored. Tannehill hit to Brashear, who fumbled, and Phillippe scored. Beaumont fouled to the catcher and Ritchey went out on a long drive to Donovan. The score was now five to three in favor of the visitors, and three runs were added to Pittsburgh's score in the seventh and another in the ninth. The Cardinals were unable to score after the one inning, when they got together with their hits.

Donovan tried a new pitcher, Currie, yesterday, and tried him out in the box today. A few days ago Currie pitched a 19-inning 1-0 game at Nevada, Mo., striking out a dozen men. Today he made a very favorable impression, showing good control and all kinds of speed. With decent support he might have won his game, for at no time did the Pirates hit him hard, and he allowed only one base on balls throughout the game. But with the support given Currie by the Cardinals today not even Phillippe could have won the game.

The Cardinals' Bad Breaks.

Farrell, Brashear and Kruger were responsible for most of the errors scored by the locals, although Currie's wild throw to first was responsible for two runs and Barclay's stupid work in left field let in a couple more.

Burke had a bad day at third for the Pirates. He had two errors scored against him and the official scorekeeper was liberal at that. In the fifth when Brashear and Kruger singled in succession, Ryan hit one to Conroy, which he threw perfectly to Burke. The latter stepped off the bag to get the ball where it bounded and the runner was safe. Currie then singled to left field and Tannehill threw wild to the plate, letting all three runners score. A moment later when Smoot hit to third base, Currie gave a pretty exhibition of baserunning, dodging back and forth on the third base line till Smoot had run up behind him and sat down on third. Tannehill got to first three times on errors. Wagner scored a couple of singles and a double. Burke was there with three singles and O'Connor with two.

Deacon Phil Was Steady.

Phillippe pitched a careful, winning game throughout, the nine hits scored off his delivery being widely scattered. The Pirates' batting order was so modified as to be scarcely recognizable, Tannehill being in left, Ritchey at second, Wagner in right, Conroy at short and Burke at third.

AFTER MOORE AGAIN.

Cleveland Pitcher Is Likely to Take Another Jump.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 22.—(Special.)—The sensation in baseball circles here this evening was a rumor that gained credence around the Bingham house, where the Cleveland team is stopping, that Pitchers Moore and Joss and Outfielder McCarthy would jump their contracts and sign with New York. All of the players in question denied absolutely that there was any truth in the report. Earl Moore, however, to a friend, confidentially said that he had practically accepted terms from the New York club, and that he would join that team tomorrow.

Manager Armour said tonight that, while Moore had said nothing to him about leaving the Cleveland club, he did not expect the big pitcher to accompany his team to Washington in the morning. While it is said that Moore has signed with New York, it is believed that Brooklyn is the team he will play with. President Ebbetts, of the Brooklyn club, was in town all day. Moore was not at the game this afternoon, but one of the hotel attendants declares that the Brooklyn president and the big pitcher were closeted in the latter's room. Everything points to Moore's leaving town this evening, but up to a late hour he had not departed. He is accompanied by his wife and he settled for his wife's hotel board early in the evening and had his trunk ready for transportation.

BROOKLYN WON BOTH.

Evans, the Giant Discard, Shut the Quakers Out.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The Brooklyn team made it three straight against the Philadelphias by winning both games of the double-header at Washington park this afternoon. Evans was released by the New York club last week and received an ovation when he walked to the pitcher's box for the Brooklyn club, with which he signed only today. The new acquisition to Hanlon's players also did well at the bat, as he made a single and a two-bagger and scored a run. The scores:

CADILLAC THE WINNER.

Showed Splendid Work in the Lake Race.

TOLEDO, O., July 22.—The first race of the Inter Lake Yachting association meet at Put-in-Bay today, was sailed in a light breeze, and just enough of a sea to make slow time. Twenty as fine yachts as have ever been seen at the bay lined up for the start.

Interest centered in the two cup defenders, Detroit and Cadillac. The latter did some splendid work and reached the initial stake first. She cleaned up everything in the fleet and but for a disastrous error of judgment would have carried off high honors. In heading for the second stake she cracked on a balloon jib and headed about two points to the leeward of the stake. The other yachts followed her and after a long drift the Cadillac could not pick up the stake and bestrode for home. Capt. Pettle claiming that he received such orders from Commodore Warren. The other yachts finally found the stake after a hunt and sailed back home.

Another Player for Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, MD., July 22.—Manager Robinson of the Baltimore baseball club signed Pickering, late of Cleveland, today to play right field. McFarland arrived tonight and will play center field tomorrow. Cyler has been released.

The Track Was Wet.

TITUSVILLE, PA., July 22.—(Special.)—The first day's races scheduled for the Titusville meet of the Lake Erie circuit, was postponed until tomorrow, owing to wet track. The entries are large and comprise many well-known flyers.

The Country Club Tournament.

The professional golf tournament on the Country club's links today consists of 18 holes to be played in the morning and 18 holes to be played in the afternoon, will commence in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

CAMP MEETING SEASON.

End of Month Will See Many of These Gatherings in Progress.

By the end of this month the camp meeting season will be in full swing. There are already five meetings in progress in various parts of the county. At Valley Camp the meetings are being well attended. Preceding the regular Methodist camp meeting which is held in August, the Western Pennsylvania Holiness association will open a meeting July 29 on the Mt. Sewickley camp meeting grounds. The officers of the association who will be in charge are J. W. McIntyre and E. C. Hazlett. The Rev. Paul A. Jennings of Indiana, Pa., will conduct the singing services. The program will be made up of addresses and lectures. The regular Methodist Episcopal camp meeting at Mt. Sewickley this year will be in charge of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny conferences. The Rev. Dr. J. M. Thoburn, the Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle, the Rev. Dr. E. M. Wood, and others will conduct services daily. A feature of these meetings will be a sunrise meeting each Sunday of the season.

It is said that all the Mt. Sewickley cottages have been rented for the season. Last year over 12,000 people attended the Methodist Episcopal meetings. The stockholders will hold their annual meeting on the opening day.

Roosevelt the Only Candidate.

CINCINNATI, July 22.—Senator Foraker, in the course of an interview today, said: "Roosevelt is the only man who is seriously thought of by the great masses of the people for the presidency. There are a few flickering flames that some ambitious partisans are trying to fan into a blaze, but they cannot make them burn steadily and they will all go out in due time."

NUMERAL WON GLEN COVE HANDICAP

SOMBRERO WAS FAVORITE, BUT HAD NO CHANCE.

Wonderly's Clever Riding Brought Home the Victory, With Sun Shower Making a Game Fight—Inspector Stevens Captured the Steeplechase Easily.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—Perry Belmont's Numeral, with Wonderly in the saddle, won the Glen Cove handicap, the feature of the card at Brighton Beach today. Sombrero, the favorite, had no chance with the start. He was off next to last and was never able to get up. He finished a good third, being beaten only a length and a half. Northern Star broke in front and made the running to the stretch, when Wonderly moved up Numeral and in a driving finish won by a head from Sun Shower, who closed very strong under Rice's vigorous ride.

Out of the eight starters in the steeplechase only four finished. Inspector Stevens, the favorite, won easily from Mr. Stoffel, with Kufa third, Thriftless, Maryland, Victor and Lime Juice falling at the first jump. The weather was clear and the track slow. Summaries:

FINISH WAS DESPERATE.

Picquart Defeated Little Scout, the Favorite.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Barney Schreiber's Picquart, in the third race at Harlem today, after being backed from 12 to 1 to 7 to 1, beat the prohibitive favorite, Little Scout, in a desperate finish, only a neck separating them at the wire. Coburn, who rode the favorite, made a valiant effort, but Lyne, who rode the winner and both boys were in the stand for some time, but no action was taken by the judges. The other five races went to three second choices and two favorites. Weather fine; track dead and slow. Summaries:

CUBAN TEAM SHOWS IT CAN PLAY THE GAME

Got Good and Even With the Steel Workers for That Defeat.

BOWMAN IN POOR FORM

Had Neither Speed Nor Control and Wanted to Quit in Fifth Inning. Visitors Put Up Fast and Clever Work All the Way.

The All-Cubans yesterday turned the tables on the H. L. A. C. at Steel Works park, and after an exciting contest were victorious, the score being 6 to 1 against the steel workers. The fine game of Monday served to show that the teams were evenly matched and brought a good crowd out to witness yesterday's fray. There were some wonderful changes made in the line-up of the Cubans. Roger, who caught Monday's game, was in the box and several others were switched around. The catcher-pitcher twirled a nice game and had the Homesteaders under his thumb at every stage.

Bowman went into the box for Homestead, but he was not feeling good and did not appear to have his usual control of the ball. In the fifth inning he appeared to lose some of his nerve and wanted to quit the game, but was pursuaded to go on. He tried it again and in the seventh the visitors landed on his curves for four hits, which netted them three runs. At this juncture Bennett replaced the West Virginian, but he fared little better. The fielding of both teams was not up to the standard of Monday. Homestead appeared to be at sea at different stages and slow work was responsible for several of the runs made off Bowman. The score:

STEEL COMBINE SCENTS DANGER IN HIGH PRICES

Still Trying to Check Movement for the Inflation of Profits.

BESSEMER DEAL FAILURE

If Bessemer Association Holds Out for its Figures, the Corporation Will Try to Make Itself Independent—Money Situation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 22.—The United States Steel Corporation is doing all in its power to induce steel manufacturers to keep prices down to a reasonable level. The officials of the combine, while realizing that the prosperity of the steel business is assured for 18 months at least, scent danger in the uninterrupted upward movement in the prices of steel as well as iron.

A number of mills are following the policy of the steel corporation in the matter of prices. Most of these mills are independent in the matter of raw supplies and are able to keep the prices of their products on a basis with those of the steel combine. However, the mills that depend upon outside interests for their raw material feel justified in selling their steel at the maximum figures. With Bessemer iron selling far above $20 a ton, higher prices for coke and iron ore and scarcity of coal, advancing prices for finished products are but natural. Within the last few weeks Bessemer iron has been sold as high as $22 and $23 a ton in the West, which is sufficient to show that the independent steel plants that depend upon the merchant furnaces for their supplies cannot follow the lead taken by the United States Steel Corporation.

It is the furnace men, principally, that the United States Steel Corporation is trying to induce to keep prices down to a reasonable level. Negotiations entered into by the steel corporation with the Bessemer association for supplies of iron for next year have been practically abandoned for the time being, owing to the high prices asked by the association. It was said today that should the Bessemer association decide to hold out for the high prices it has fixed upon for iron the United States Steel Corporation will make itself entirely independent in the market of pig iron.

After the Scalp of Heinze.

The news from Butte, Mont., that the Minnie Healey mine has been closed as a result of an injunction granted by the supreme court, thus greatly reducing the output of the Heinze properties, was responsible for the first big break in the shares of the Amalgamated Copper Company today. A representative of the company said there were no prospects of a settlement of the copper fight.

"We are still after the scalp of Mr. Heinze," said he, "and believe hostilities will not be concluded until we get it."

Loans by Out-of-Town Banks.

A feature of the financial situation is the vast amount of money that has been lent in this city during the past few months by out-of-town institutions. The vice president of one of the largest banks in the city said that out-of-town loans at present exceed $100,000,000.

"This band alone," said he, "has outstanding something like $7,000,000 in loans in the names of its correspondents. An officer of one of these banks told me that in the event of a stringency in his district, these loans would be called first, as it was his duty to protect his home customers. Many of the interior banks will follow this policy, and the result would be higher rates here should the movement become general. But, then, 6 per cent money here would be followed by heavy shipments of currency to New York and serve to check wholesale calling in of loans by out-of-town banks. However, there is plenty of money in the country, and even if gold exports do reach $10,000,000 or $20,000,000 the banks will still be able to take care of their customers."

Effect of Strike on Railroads.

According to the figures of the shipments of anthracite coal, given out today, the railroads suffered a loss of over 3,000,000 tons in this traffic during May as a result of the strike. The amount of anthracite coal shipped to market during May is given at 1,708,892 tons, as against 4,693,562 tons during the same month of 1901, when the miners were at work. There was, therefore, a loss due to the strike of 2,984,670 tons. As the strike was in effect only 18 days of May, the decrease for June is expected to be considerably larger. The shipments of anthracite coal from January 1 to May 31 are announced as 18,731,879 tons, as against 22,727,056 tons, shipped during the same period of 1901. The decrease for the five months, therefore reached 3,995,177 tons. Accordingly, there was a loss of over 1,000,000 tons during the first four months before the strike was in effect. This was explained today by a prominent coal authority as being due to partial cessation of work by the miners in preparation for the strike. E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

NEW YORK, July 22.—An effort is being made to boom the new Skeleton creek district, Ida., as outrivaling in richness every other gold camp in the state. The latest strike there is reported by an Oregon miner, who is said to have uncovered an immense body of ore glittering with free gold. The district is 85 miles northeast of Mountain Home.

Joplin's sales last week were 9,645,450 pounds of zinc ore, valued at $711,059, and 1,294,220 of lead, worth $70,802. Zinc sold up to $42, lead remaining steady at $48 a ton.

The Newlife M. at Joplin, Mo., has been sold to Chicago and Indiana parties for $40,000.

A Stockton (Cal.) correspondent writes that the small mountain streams are getting very low and that unless the first of next month those mines not otherwise provided with water will be compelled to close. The drying up of the streams will not interfere with the operation of the big properties.

The Bullion Bar Dredging Company, which controls under lease the gravel properties and gold dredger of the Advance Gold Dredging Company at the Pot Holes, 14 miles above Yuma, Ariz., is preparing to begin active operations.

A large body of rose quartz has been found at Granite creek, near Amadee, Cal. It is said to assay $7,000 a ton.

Advices from Virginia, Nev., say the Venture Corporation of London has offered $10,000,000 for the mines of the Tonopah Company, the Salt Lake and Tonopah, Fraction and other properties at Tonopah. Englishmen are also negotiating for the Goldfield claim on Gold mountain, Utah, which is held at $5,000,000.

Work on the Atlantic mine of the Aberdeen Copper Company at Aberdeen, N. M., is showing ore averaging $28 a ton. The supply of water now developed will enable the company to erect a 200-ton plant.

The Metal Market.

The chief feature of all metal markets today was the weakness displayed. In nearly every instance declines were reported, generally under liquidation, with a disregard of lows. The tin market at New York was weak and 30 points lower on the bid price, spot closing at $28.50@28.65. While not reported officially, some sales were said to have been made during the day. The English price was lowered 7s 6d on spot and 10s on futures, closing prices being £128 5s and £125 10s respectively. The foreign price of copper also weakened, both spot and futures declining 5s 6d to £52 15s 6d for the former and to £53 for futures. The local market ruled weak and lower with standard, spot to August, quoted at $11 40@11 60; Lake, $11 90@12 00; electrolytic, $11 85@11 95; and casting at $11 75@11 85. Sales of 100,000 pounds lake at $12 00 were reported for the day. In lead there was nothing of feature either in the home market or abroad. The local market ruled steady at $4 12½ and at London the price declined 1s 3d, spot closing at £11 2s 6d. Spelter was unchanged, firm here and quiet abroad. The English price remained at £19 and locally at $5 37½. English iron prices declined, Glasgow closing at 56s 3d and Middlesboro at 51s. At New York no changes were reported. Warrants were nominal. No. 1 foundry, northern, $23 00@25 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $22 00@23 00, and No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $22 00@23 00.

Eastern Railroads Lead Wall Street

HEAVY TRADING IN N. Y. CENTRAL CHIEF FEATURE

Rumor of Comprehensive Agreement Chief Cause of Heavy Buying.

MORGAN'S NAME SPOKEN

Market Makes Fair Show of Strength on Striking Gains in Miscellaneous Stocks—Western Speculators Furnish Most of the Activity.

New York, July 22.—Today's stock market was not up to the recent level of activity, the total dealings falling considerably below the million-share mark. This was practically the only effect apparent from the doubts aroused by the current outward movement of gold. The speculative forces recently at work continued operations on a large scale although shifting the field of their operations to new quarters. The eastern railroad stocks, led by New York Central, were the feature of the market, the Reading stocks being included in the movement. The buying was by the brokers usually employed of late by the western contingent in its large operations. The ostensible basis of the buying was the rumor of new and comprehensive agreement amongst the railroad powers in the eastern territory, including the Pennsylvania railroad, the Vanderbilts and Mr. Morgan. With the addition of striking gains by a miscellaneous group of stocks, the market made a fair show of strength.

Grain Carries Heavy.

The grain carriers were inclined to heaviness early, owing to reports of showers in the western states, but they stiffened up afterward apparently under the influence of the violent rise in Rock Island, which advanced more than 8 points and then collapsed, with a final recovery to about 4 points over last night. The strength of Amalgamated was attributed to the securing of an injunction against the working of a disputed mine by a rival. A number of other industrials rose strongly without explanation. It was noticeable, however, that there were neglected and heavy stocks all through the list. There is much puzzled conjectures as to the limits likely to be reached by the outward gold movement. Tentative arrangements for the export of another $1,000,000 this week were made today. The continued selling of stocks here for London account facilitated the arrangement. It has been supposed that additional credits abroad sufficient to prevent gold exports could be easily procured, pending the fall exports of grain and cotton, and notwithstanding the heavy foreign indebtedness known to have been extended as a result of last year's shortage in our grain exports.

Blamed on South Africans.

The disappointment of these expectations seems to be done to the forced liquidation in London of speculative accounts in South Africans, for which the public demand is said to be disappointingly small. Part of this liquidation comes from Paris and is supplemented by realizing on American securities which are thrown upon the New York market by arbitrage sales, owing to the advancing tendency of prices here. It is noteworthy that the sub-treasury here paid out today upward of $300,000 on assay office checks on account of Klondike gold received at Seattle and San Francisco, thus affording a considerable offset to the withdrawals of gold for export. The running deficit in the government revenues continues to be disbursed into the money market, thus relieving bank reserves from all requirements on that account.

Some of the convertible bonds were active today in sympathy with the movements of their relative stocks, but the general market was rather dull and irregular. Total sales par value $2,330,000. United States refunding 2s declined ⅛, old 4s regular ¼, old 4s regular coupon ⅝ and the new 4s ½ per cent on the last call.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Drygoods market conditions are without material change. The home demand is quiet throughout and no business of any moment is reported for export. Prices of brown bleached and coarse colored cottons are unchanged. Print cloths also unchanged in price, demand quieter than last week. Prints steady and ginghams firm. Silks and ribbons firm, with a moderate demand.

"Who Did It," is the title of the beautiful Free Art Supplement with next Sunday's Gazette.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Gold export has a bad influence on the general market, though there is a fair amount of activity.

Rumor of an agreement among the eastern roads, including Pennsylvania, with Morgan in the deal the basis of some buying.

Manipulators from the west seem to be the real cause of the activity.

Bonds are dull and irregular, though some convertibles are active.

NEW YORK PRICES.

Daily range of prices reported by Messrs. Henry Sproul & Co., Peoples Savings bank building, members of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Chicago stock exchanges, and Chicago board of trade:

WHAT THE BEST OIL WELLS ARE DOING

Northeast of Salem, Harrison county, W. Va., some good producers are coming in and will stimulate operations in that quarter. O'Day Bros. & Gartlans' No. 2 on the E. W. Custer farm is holding up at 240 barrels a day. The Eastern Oil Company's No. 4 on the Kittner heirs' and Smith, Riddle & Co.'s No. 4 on the S. W. Williams farms are holding up at 285 and 140 barrels a day respectively.

North of the Pine Grove district, Wetzel county, E. H. Jennings & Bros.' test on the Amos Sidel farm is producing 100 barrels a day and has not been completed. L. S. Hoyt & Co.'s No. 59 on the L. S. Hoyt tract is holding up at 175 barrels a day.

In the Folsom district the South Penn has completed its test on the Eli Williams farm and has a 10-barrel pumper.

On the east side of the same development the Delmar Oil Company has drilled in its test on the A. Price farm. The well produced 50 barrels up to the time drilling was suspended to move back the boiler. The same company's No. 1 on the William T. Ice farm is drilling near the top of the Gordon.

In the Centerville district, Tyler county, the Philadelphia Company has completed a test on the Frank Reed farm and has a duster in the Gordon.

In the New Keener Pool.

The first of a new crop of wells drilling in the new Keener sand pool on Bends creek, Ritchie county, was drilled in yesterday and makes that development look promising. The new test is owned by the Associated Producers Company and is located on the William Clark farm, 350 feet east of the Cleveland & Parkersburg Oil Company (formerly Keener, Smith & Co.) producer on the T. E. Dye farm. The new well on the Clark farm has been drilled 12 feet into the Keener and is showing fine for 12 barrels a day. The Dye test started at 60 barrels a day.

On Rock run, Clay district, Ritchie county, I. E. Mallory & Co. have drilled No. 5 on the Jacob Morrison farm through the Keener sand and have a duster. The test is owned by the Maxon sand and will have a good well. It has been producing 150 barrels a day from that formation while drilling to the Keener.

On Pig Knot run the Three Joes Oil Company's well on the Elroy Wagner farm is holding up at 450 barrels a day.

One in the Berea Grit.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Yellow Creek Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the Bennett heirs' farm into the Berea grit and has a show for a 25-barrel producer. This district, as a producer from the Berea formation, is coming to the front.

In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, N. S. Snyder has completed his Nos. 12 and 13 and has a brace of five-barrel pumpers in the second Cow Run sand. The Carney Oil Company has one of the same kind at its No. 2 on the W. H. H. Wheaton farm. The average depth of these wells is 540 feet, so that they are paying investments, even though quite small.

On Bens run, Pleasants county, Henneghan & Daily have completed No. 9 on the R. C. Masters farm and show for a 50-barrel well in the Cow Run sand.

In the Calcutta district the Charter Oil Company has completed No. 3 and 4 on the Henry Seymour farm and No. 1 on the Sharp heirs' farm as 10-barrel pumper in the Keener sand.

In the Rinards Mills district, near the Monroe county line, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its test on the John McVay farm through the Berea grit and has a duster.

Middleton, Barnhart & Co. had the same kind of luck at their test on the W. J. Miracle farm.

In the Sand Hill district the Alice Oil Company has completed No. 22 on the T. O. Scott farm and has a duster.

At Chester Hill, Morgan county, the Ohio Consolidated Oil Company has completed Nos. 8 and 9 on the E. S. Hillman farm and has a brace of small pumpers.

In the Joy district the Midland Company has completed No. 189 on the E. R. Dale tract and has a duster.

The National Company of New York has drilled in its No. 7 on the Uriah Brooks farm and has a light well.

North of Bellesda, Belmont county, the Ann Oil Company has drilled a wildcat on the Sarah R. Jeffrey farm into the Keener sand and has a little show of oil.

Across the Harrison county line, in Guernsey county, McKean & Co. have completed a test on the J. Ripley farm and have a duster.

The Oil Market.

The Standard Oil Company's price for credit balances was unchanged yesterday at $1 22. The Producers and Refiners' also paid $1

Local Stocks Were Quieter and Generally Closed at Net Losses

BREWING STOCKS FIRMLY HELD AT CLOSING PRICES

The Westinghouse Electric Seconds Broke Over a Dollar at the Finish.

WINDOW GLASS LOWER

Crucible Steels Very Quiet and Easier—U. S. Steels Declined on Light Selling—Fire Proofing Common Rallied—Coalers Were Easier.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was quite dull and the close decidedly heavy, a majority of the changes in value showing net losses for the day. About the firmest thing on the list, and at the same time the most active, was Pittsburgh Brewing Company. The common stock sold nearly 600 shares at 27¼ and the preferred a little over 500 at 47, both prices being unchanged. The bonds were also firm and active, $17,000 selling at 111, an advance of ⅛ and the highest price in some time. A conspicuously weak stock was Westinghouse Electric seconds, which sold a little over 300 shares and closed with a loss of 1⅛ at 103⅝. Afterward offers occured at 103, 102¾ being the best bid. This stock was also weak in the east. The annual meeting of the company is expected to be held upon Mr. Westinghouse's return from abroad very soon. There are bulls on the issue who are still predicting 125 and 150 for it. American Window Glass common was comparatively dull and heavy. Only 420 shares came out, but just before the close it broke to 61⅛, rallying afterward to 61¾, a loss of ¼. The preferred was also easier and ¼ lower at 93½. It is rumored that its $13,000,000 of common stock is to be made a second preferred and the $4,000,000 preferred a first preferred. Then a common stock, which report says may be about $10,000,000, is to be issued for the purpose of buying the new glass blowing machine which is already owned by some of the leading stockholders and officials of the Window Glass Company. However, there have been so many reports concerning the Window Glass Company and so many "tips" to buy the stock for a big advance that all are beginning to be taken with a grain of salt. The Crucible Steel issues were very quiet, the common losing ¼ at 21¼ and the preferred being unchanged at 85½. United States Steel common was dull and heavy, declining ⅛ to 40½. The preferred sold a small lot at 90, a loss of ⅜ and regular lots offered at 90¾, with only 90 bid. Fire Proofing common rallied ¼ to 31¾ and was quite firm. The preferred lost ½ at 39½. There are bull tips on the common to buy it for a big advance. It is also reported that the company is to be merged into the George A. Fuller realty combine in some way that will be very advantageous to present stockholders. Then the talk of a big extra dividend is also getting pronounced again. In the remainder of the list there was not much doing. The coal stocks were dull, easier and fractionally lower. Bank stocks were quiet and featureless. Bonds were fairly active and steady.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $1,085,025 61.

Sales Pittsburgh exchange 4,458 shares and $39,000 bonds.

Westing Electric seconds broke 1⅛ to 103⅜ and then offered at 103.

Window Glass common was ¼ lower at 61¾. The preferred also lost ¼ at 93½.

Crucible Steel common closed at 21¼ and the preferred at 85½.

United States Steel common closed at 40½ and the preferred at 90. Both very dull.

Fire Proofing common advanced ¼ to 31¾ and the preferred lost ½ at 39½. Bull tips are out.

The Coal stocks were dull and fractionally lower.

Brewing issues active and firm.

Bank stocks were very dull.

Bonds were fairly active.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

Schoyer and Hall sold Fire Proofing common and Parkesburg bought.

Hill & Co. and Robinson Bros. sold Westinghouse Electric seconds.

The story is that a prominent dealer in puts and calls was caught short of Rock Island.

Sprout & Co. offered 1,000 Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad common at the close at 33⅜.

The first sale on the board was 20 River Coal preferred at 35½ and the last 100 Brewing common at 27¾.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer sold 200 Pennsylvania Railroad Company at 89½, a new high record, to Robinson Bros.

McMullin sold $11,000 and Campbell $3,000 Brewing 6s at 111, the highest price the bonds have reached in some time.

Sprout & Co. and Hall were the only sellers of Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad common; Whitney & Stephenson took 400.

An injunction has been granted preventing F. Augustus Heinze from operating the Minnie Healy mine pending final decision of the courts.

A New York news agency quotes an anonymous United States Steel director as saying the June and July earnings ought to aggregate $28,000,000.

The Citizens' National bank stockholders yesterday voted to go into voluntary liquidation. The bank has been absorbed by the Union Trust Company.

The capital stock of the Donora National bank has been increased from $60,000 to $100,000, and the bank is preparing to take charge of its new building.

There is an impression that the directors of Anaconda will meet for dividend action soon. The Anaconda dividends are declared semi-annually. The last one was declared April 15. Therefore another declaration will not be due until October.

Baltimore & Ohio apparently declared their dividend 30 days earlier than usual. The last dividend was declared in February, and was payable March 1. It is believed that some sort of rights are likely now to be given to the stockholders in the near future.

The notices of the annual meeting of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company are accompanied by a request that the stockholders who cannot personally attend to indicate their proxies to S. I. Heyn, assistant secretary, at Denver. The annual meeting of the company will be held on the 12th of August.

Brown Bros. & Co.'s foreign exchange man says that it is not likely that much gold will be shipped in the near future, and he only looks for a small lot, if any. He says he sees no reason why any should be shipped this week, although it is hard for them to figure more than one day ahead on it.

Mr. James J. Hyde, vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, is now a member of the board of directors of the Mellon National bank. Mr. Hyde will likewise be elected to the board of directors of the Union Savings bank at the next regular monthly meeting of the board. He will also be added to the directory of the Union Trust Company at the annual meeting in January, 1903.

John G. Holmes of N. Holmes & Sons, bankers, analyzes the enquiry and unqualified denial of a recently published report that the firm has been negotiating for a sale of its business to the Real Estate Trust Company, or any other concern. Mr. Holmes said: "The rumor last started is idle and untrue. The deal is an accomplished fact, and it is injurious to our business. There never was any discussion of such a deal, past or present, and there will not be. The firm will continue its business as usual.

At an auction sale at the Union Trust Company, 1,000 shares of Mackintosh-Hemphill stock sold at prices ranging from 127½ to 130. The capital is $1,000,000, with a surplus said to approach $600,000, making the book value about 150. Last year it paid 25 per cent dividends, and this year for the first six months the dividend was 18 per cent. This does not look like 25 per cent, however, as 25 per cent was paid for the first six months last year. The stock sold was ex-dividend 18 per cent and was practically all absorbed by inside interest.

The impression has become generally prevalent that because the Pennsylvania railroad owns control of the Allegheny Valley railroad the preferred stock is worth and has been for years a "minority stock," while bold holders have poor prospects of ever receiving the dividends that have been accumulating ever since the reorganization. One specialist in the stock, however, remarked yesterday: "The general impression prevailed regarding Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western, in which the Pennsylvania is largely interested, but these stocks have since sold at 50 and 70 respectively in the eastern market. Our advices from Philadelphia intimate that there will be 'something doing' here shortly before long."

Stocks though high are not dear. St. Paul was dearer at half its present price in 1887 than it is now, when the company had only $80,560,000 of gross earnings and less than $12,000,000 net, with a small margin, moreover, its 4 per cent dividend. For the 1902 fiscal year it will show gross earnings of $45,000,000 and $18,250,000 net. The cash and cash assets of the road, which were $6,500,000 in 1897 were current liabilities of $6,000,000 in 1897 were $17,-$50,000 for 1901, against $7,300,000. The stock is earning two or three times its dividend. It may not get more than 6 per cent, as some expect, and as would seem reasonable, especially after the action taken by northwestern directors, but as to the increasing value of the equities there can be no question, nor can there be any question but that the stock will get all that is coming to it in some shape or other.—New York Daily Stockholder.

Wall Street Pointers.

We look to see a higher market in Reading. There is a kind of 113 look about Baltimore & Ohio.

There was said to be further good buying in Baltimore & Ohio.

London was a seller to the extent of some 55,000 shares of Steel.

Foreign exchange has been very firm, with demand sterling at $4 88.

Atchison common again became very strong and active, advancing to the highest price yet reached.

Realizing was understood to be in progress on the part of the pool which recently advanced the Alton stocks.

Metropolitan cannot stay around price. It has either got to go up or down, and it doesn't look like going down.

Barring accident we look for the market to broaden further and believe that the good railroad stocks can be safely bought.—Lounsbery.

There was considerable manipulation of the Fisher Company stocks, based on the prospects for the formation of a great rally combination.

It is understood that a conference of the presidents of the Southern companies may be held in a few days and matters of importance may be discussed.

Don' let any one sell any Rock Island short. I think somebody has been selling the stock and buying the rights and there are apt to squeeze the life out of the shorts.

There is a story around Wall street that the western contingent is working the Louisville & Nashville game on New York Central, having accumulated a large line of Central at lower figures. They say that Vanderbilts must buy their holdings or else they will buy the Louisville and can put some salt on the tail of this story.

I think Baltimore & Ohio will turn up in control of Reading. In connection with this there will be considerable financing to be done, which will probably be the occasion for Baltimore & Ohio stockholders to subscribe to the necessary bonds with Reading as collateral. These rights will probably be worth a good deal and Baltimore & Ohio is beginning to discount them. Think it will sell a great deal higher.

Available Grain Supply.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Special cable and telegraphic communication to Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies, compared with the last account: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 372,000 bu; afloat for and in Europe, decreased 2,300,000 bu; total supply, decreased 1,928,000 bu. Corn, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 668,000 bu. Oats, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 828,000 bu. Among the more important decreases reported this week are those of 225,000 bushels in Manitoba, 172,000 bushels at Newport News, 145,000 bushels at Depot Harbor, 125,000 bushels at Minneapolis private elevators, 102,000 bushels at Rochester and 58,-000 bushels at Portland, Me. The leading increases include those of 410,000 bushels at Chicago private elevators, 81,000 bushels at Louisville, 55,000 bushels at Akron and 50,000 bushels each at Chattanooga and Nashville.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, July 22.—The past week has been a record one in sales of wool here, it being the best of any during the present year. A number of the big corporations have been buying as well as a large number of smaller dealers. Prices are higher in several instances and all grades are on the upward tendency.

Territory wools are very firm with considerable new wool being taken as well as old. Prices are very strong, fine staple territories, 50@52c; strictly fine, 50@51c; fine and fine medium, 48@49c; medium, 46@48c.

The supply of Texas wool is reported to be exceeding small, while there is a good call for the finer grades. Fine staple has sold at a good deal above 55c, with even 48c mentioned as an asking price.

Fine wools are firmer, following the firmness abroad, and the position of fine domestic wools in the country. Ohio and Pennsylvania XXX, nominal, 30@31c; XX and above, 28@29c; X, 26@27c; Michigan X, 24@26c. Delaine and fine combing wools are in a very firm position with the tendency upward. Ohio fine Delaine, 29½@31c; Michigan, 27@28c; No. 1 washed combing, 28@29c; No. 2, 27@28c; coarse, 23@25c.

For this market Australian wools are very firm and pretty thoroughly sold up. Quotations are very firm. Combing, choice scoured basis, 75@78c; good, 72@74c; average, 70@72c.

Turpentine and Rosin.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 22.—Spirits turpentine nothing doing. Rosin steady at $1 10@1 15. Crude turpentine firm at $1 40, $2 50 and $2 60. Tar firm at $1 50.

SAVANNAH, GA., July 22.—Turpentine firm at 44c. Rosin firm. Quote: A, B, C, $1 15; D, $1 20; E, $1 25; F, $1 30; G, $1 35; H, $1 70; I, $2 05; K, $2 55; M, $3 05; N, $3 40; W G, $3 50; W W, $3 70.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Coffee futures opened steady, with prices unchanged to 10 points higher, the advance being due chiefly to a scare of shorts in conjunction with support from bull leaders and general buying. Cables were easily up to expectations, reflecting a firm situation abroad and advices from the crop country depicted a bullish feeling there. Following the call the local market was excited and very active, with prices showing an advancing tendency. Commission house buying was fair, shorts covered at every opportunity and the undertone up to midday ruled strong. Then heavy realizing set in with room and outside longs and the clique participating, under which prices lost all their early advance, closing net unchanged to 10 points lower. Selling by importers was a feature of the afternoon's trade. The market was finally barely steady. Sales amounted to 62,700 bags, including July, 5.30@5.40c; August, 5.50@5.40c; September, 5.30@5.45c; October, 5.25@5.30c; December, 5.30@5.40c; January, 5.40c; February, 5.40@5.45c; March, 5.55@5.50c; May, 5.45@5.55c; June, 5.55@5.60c. Sugar—Raw firm; fair refining, 21 3-16c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3⅝c. Molasses sugar, 2⅝c; refined firm.

Canned Goods.

Standard tomatoes are offering at a range of $1 20@1 30, and at these quotations there is an easy situation, while new pack goods are being offered below old pack prices, sellers are inclined to be rather firm on futures, and are not making any great concessions, or showing much anxiety to sell. All other lines of canned goods are unchanged.

Standard pie peaches, 80@85c; gallon pie peaches, $2 50@3 00; California L. Fruits and Produce.

Potatoes continue to arrive in liberal quantities, and the market is easy. Some inquiry is already noted for bulk stock, and several cars have come into the yards. Illinois and Tennessee tomatoes are about out of the market, while prices for Jersey and home grown remain unchanged. Peaches are coming in very freely, and quotations are lower, the abundance of stock causing them to cut quite an important figure in trade. California cantaloupes are in market.

DALLAS AVENUE PROPERTY SOLD TO AN ATTORNEY

Thomas D. Chantler Buys a Handsome Residence for $35,000.

TWO SALES ARTICLED FOR

Modern Houses in East End Bought for Homes—A $20,000 Residence for North Highland Avenue—New Brick-Laying Machine.

Through the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company, Franklin P. Booth, the commission merchant, has disposed of his property in Dallas avenue for $35,000. The lot measures 85x217 feet and is situated on the east side of the avenue, between Penn avenue and Reynolds street, Twenty-second ward. It lies in the rear of the D. C. Irish property and is near the Bradley and Wainwright holdings. On the lot is erected a fine colonial brick house of 12 rooms which is finished throughout in hardwood and provided with all modern conveniences. The property was purchased by Thomas D. Chantler of the firm of Chantler, McGill & Cunningham, attorneys, for an investment. This is the largest deal made in this neighborhood for some time and at the price paid, about $422 a front foot, the property is considered very reasonable.

Two Good Transactions.

The Valley Trust Company of the East End has the articles of agreement signed in the sale of 72 feet of Penn avenue frontage, the consideration being $50,000. The property is located in the south side of the avenue, not far from St. Clair street, it is said, but the brokers declined to give the particulars of the sale until the deeds are delivered. The lot has a depth of 200 feet and has erected on it three dwellings.

The purchaser is a prominent real estate speculator who is preparing to tear down the old houses and replace them with a five-story store and apartment building, to cover a good portion of the lot. He is now in New York inspecting model apartment houses there with a view to getting the latest ideas in flat construction. The proposed building will cost $150,000 and will be started this fall.

J. A. Young & Co. of the East End have made an exchange deal involving property valued at $110,000. About $90,000 of this amount is business and residence property in this city and the remainder is vacant property outside. The names of the parties to the deal are withheld pending the delivery of the deeds.

Three Big Deals Closed.

The final papers have been delivered in three large deals noted in The Gazette recently. Henry W. Oliver has secured title from John Murtland and others to the Murtland block, at the southwest corner of Sixth avenue and Smithfield street, for $400,000. The lot is 20x60 feet and the building an eight-story brick block. This makes the price of the realty $20,000 a front foot, a record figure for Pittsburgh property. The transaction was negotiated by P. D. Nicols & Co.

The deed for the Jones property, adjoining the Murtland block on the west, has also been delivered to Mr. Oliver through the agency of Henry I. Adair, the consideration being $100,000, or $5,000 a front foot.

The other large deed registered was for the property of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company at the corner of Carson and Thirty-third streets, South Side, which was conveyed to the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad Company, the sale having been made through the office of P. D. Nicols & Co. The lot is 125.5x315 feet and the consideration was $80,000.

Fine Houses Purchased.

Samuel Kelly & Co. have sold for Steven H. Lloyd to Peter Wertz a property in the south side of Penn avenue, near Putnam street, Twentieth ward, for $12,000. The lot measures 40x200 feet and is improved. The purchase was made for an investment.

J. A. Young & Co. have sold for Charles G. Mitchell four of his new residences in the west side of Heberton avenue, near Stanton avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $33,000. Two of the houses were purchased by Wesley S. Wakefield for $17,000 and the other two by John S. G. Little for $16,000. The lots are 20x100 feet each and the residences are colonial brick houses containing 10 rooms each.

The deed has been delivered to Mrs. M. H. Pickering for the property at the corner of North Highland avenue and Black street, which she bought two weeks ago from Prof. Wickliffe C. Lyne for $50,000. The lot is 106x180 feet and it is understood that the purchaser will erect a $20,000 residence.

Machine to Lay Brick.

Considerable interest is being taken by contractors and brick masons in an alleged invention by a Canadian of a brick laying machine, which may, if successful, largely do away with bricklayers. The new machine, it is claimed, will, with the help of two men and a boy, do the work of six or seven skilled men. Its speed is estimated at from 400 to 600 bricks an hour. The inventor claims that the machine is suited for all kinds of plain work, such as walls, sheds, mills factories, fowl cottages, piers of bridges etc., and that door and window spaces cause only a short delay in its operation.

Well posted men in the bricklaying business look for the machine to fail. They say that in plain work, such as it claims it will do, a good mason can often lay 250 bricks an hour, so that the gain in speed would be slight. Besides, they claim the machine could not "shove joints" or fill corners properly, and would be of no use between floors. The last machine of this kind that was invented required a platform to be erected for it every eight feet, which on the modern skyscraper would be no small task.

DISCREPANCIES IN THE STORIES BY MRS. LATIMER

Woman Suspected of Killing Her Husband Varies Her Testimony.

TUTHILL ON THE STAND

He Says the Murdered Man Was Friendly With Him, Even After the Shooting—Will of the Victim Filed for Probate.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 22.—Mrs. Albert C. Latimer was recalled today by Coroner Williams, who is holding an inquest in Brooklyn to determine, if possible, how her husband came to his death. She was plainly nervous when she took the witness stand, and but for the ministrations of her brother-in-law, William C. Latimer, she might have collapsed.

Mrs. Latimer modified her testimony, given last week, in some important particulars. For instance, she had said at the first examination that the man who shot her husband was smooth-faced; today she declared he wore a mask. Last week she declared that the bruises on her own body were made by the burglar; today she said she was inclined to think that Mr. Meldrum, a neighbor, made them when he was supporting her after the shooting.

William C. Latimer stood at the witness' elbow and encouraged her while she was being examined, frequently whispering to her after a question had been asked before she answered it. The hearing, which adjourned today, will be resumed tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Latimer was shown the cap found in the kitchen and said that that was the kind of cap the burglar wore. She said that the burglar had a pistol in one hand and a lantern in the other. She said she was awakened by flashes of light in the room and the shadow of some one moving about the room.

Tuthill Says Latimer Was Friendly.

William H. Tuthill, whom Mrs. Latimer sent for immediately after the shooting of her husband, was called. He said Latimer and he were members of the same lodge of the Royal Arcanum and were good friends. He said he visited Latimer at the hospital after the shooting, and that the latter greeted him cordially. He explained meeting Mrs. Latimer while on a shopping tour in New York, taking her to luncheon, and afterward going to the Latimer house to take her out wheeling. Latimer seemed angry, and he left the house. Letters cleared up the misunderstanding, he said, and the two men became friendly again.

According to Charles Arkright, a witness not heretofore mentioned in the case, Latimer was at a neighboring drugstore at 10:45 o'clock on the night preceding the murder. The police at the time of the shooting said that if they could prove that Mr. Latimer did not retire before 10 o'clock, as his wife had said he did, they could clear up the mystery. Mrs. Latimer, in her testimony given before the coroner last week, stuck to her story that her husband retired early.

Dreaded a Loveless Marriage.

A neighbor testified that she had heard Mrs. Latimer talk of the unhappiness of a loveless marriage, but she thought the woman was speaking generally and with no particular case in mind.

Elias Kasindorf, who lives near the Latimers, said he heard loud voices in the Latimer house five minutes before the shooting. He could see the back yard of the house where the shooting took place, and he was sure no one escaped that way.

Immediately after the adjournment today the will of Albert C. Latimer was filed in the surrogate's office. All of Latimer's estate is left to the widow and to his children, Marion and Edmund. The testator said:

"I give and bequeath to my daughter, Marion, the ring formerly belonging to my mother, and to my son, Edmund Latimer, my watch, formerly belonging to my father; and all the rest of my jewelry, together with my clothing, I give and bequeath to my wife, Sadie Latimer."

The will provides that in case of Mrs. Latimer's death the estate is to be divided between the two children. The children are to get the income of a portion of the estate until they reach the age of 25, when the principal is to be given to them.

The codicil, which is incoherent, reads as follows:

"Codicil: I desire all of my among my children only."

The original will gave the widow one-tenth of the property absolutely and the income of one-third additional for life, the remainder of the estate to go to the children.

SIXTEEN MEN HURT BY FALL OF SCAFFOLDING

An Accident in Sixth Avenue Early Yesterday Morning That Created Considerable Excitement.

By the breaking of the scaffolding in the excavation for the Philadelphia Company's building, No. 435 Sixth avenue, yesterday morning, 16 men were precipitated into the cellar, 25 feet below. Ten men were taken to the Homeopathic hospital. All but two of them were able to leave for their homes a few hours later.

The worst injured is Nicholas Parish, 42 years of age, of No. 62 Thirteenth street. One of his legs was broken, two ribs were crushed in and he had a bad cut on his face. Houston Reeves, 33 years of age, No. 1214 Clark street, had a broken arm and was injured internally.

The others injured and taken to the hospital were: George Barlow, No. 219 Anderson street, Allegheny; John Higginbotham, negro, No. 34 Clay alley; Joseph McCormick, No. 117 Hill street, Allegheny; John McKissick, negro, No. 71 Tunnehill street; John Ball, No. 20 Point alley; John Dove, No. 2121 Rose street, Sherman Parker, No. 1321 Franklin street, and George Gordon, No. 2121 Rose street.

The accident was caused by the slipping of some timbers and the subsequent breaking of more of them. On the scaffold was a concrete mixer, and the men were moving it from one part of the scaffold to another. The weight of the mixer, about 3,200 pounds, had little to do with the breaking of the scaffold.

The crash of falling timbers and the cries of the men who went down, as well as the calls of those left above, created considerable excitement in the Public Safety building, but two doors away. The morning hearing was in progress, and several policemen were in attendance. All were ordered to the scene, and many of them assisted in pulling out the injured from under the timbers.

The Thompson-Starrett Company is the contractor for the building, and the loss will fall upon this firm. The delay in operation was slight. Within an hour other men were at work.

MILLVALE IN TROUBLE.

Equity Suit Alleging It Continues to Operate Water Works, Defying Supreme Court Judgment.

The water question in Millvale borough was again agitated yesterday by the filing of a bill in equity by D. M. McKee against the borough and its officers. It is asked that the court restrain the borough from expending money for the maintenance of its water works, and from operating such works.

It is alleged that the Bennett Water Company for years provided the borough with water in pursuance of a contract. In May, 1898, an ordinance was adopted for an increase of the borough's indebtedness, $80,000, for the erection of water works and a system of distribution, and since then these have been operated and maintained by the borough. At this time more than $50,000 of the bonds remain unpaid.

It is said the payment of this indebtedness is a heavy burden on the taxpayers, and that the issuance of bonds and the erection of the water works are unlawful under a decision of the supreme court in a former case.

This case was for damages, brought by the Bennett Water Company against the borough for breach of contract, and after considerable litigation the company was awarded $34,467 21.

It is charged by McKee that, notwithstanding the decision of the supreme court, the borough continues to operate its own water works, and has rendered itself liable to the Bennett Water Company for additional damages dating from the entry of the former suit to the present time.

It is said this will impose an extra burden upon the taxpayers, as the maintenance of the water works by the defendants is unlawful.

Has Natural Gas to Burn.

Last fiscal year, the Philadelphia Company sold 23,884,942,600 feet of natural gas to 48,294 consumers. There is a rush of non-consumers just now for gas under the special rule by which the company agrees to make connections and set meters free of charge. Experts say the company has gas enough to last 5 years. There'll be no shortage. It's the ideal fuel in this or any other weather. Doesn't heat up the house in summer and it's cheaper than coal. ONLY EIGHT DAYS MORE

In Which to Take Advantage of Doctor Powell's Free X-Ray Examinations. All Persons Applying Before August 1st Will Receive an X-Ray Examination Absolutely Free of Charge. This Offer Positively Will Not be Extended Beyond That Day Under Any Circumstances. The Medical Profession Amazed at the Wonderful Cures Performed. The Great Quaker Physician's Inherent Power Over Disease.

The time is drawing near when Doctor Powell will discontinue his free X-Ray examinations. He has continued these free examinations as long as it was possible. He has received patients from all sections of the country. He has examined them with his famous Barium-Platino-Cyanide Fluoroscope. He has discovered hidden ailments that the Medical Profession were unable to discern. He has prescribed a course of treatment that has brought health and happiness into hundreds of despondent homes. He has performed cures that have startled the Medical Profession. He has literally made the Blind See, the Deaf Hear and the Crippled Walk. His name is a household word throughout the State of Pennsylvania, but the free X-Ray examinations must be discontinued. Doctor Powell wishes to make it emphatic that the free X-Ray examinations positively expire at eight P. M., July 31st. If you call on or before July 31st you are entitled to one of the most careful and scientific X-Ray examinations known to science absolutely free of charge. It will cost you nothing, he will not accept one penny for this examination. It is important to call as early as possible and avoid the rush which will naturally occur during the closing days of this offer. The free X-Ray examinations will not be extended after July 31st.

Cures That Are Awakening the Community.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Mrs. Kate George, 282 Jones Ave., Pittsburgh, says: "I had not seen a well day for twenty years—I had pains all through my body so bad that I was confined to my bed weeks at a time. I was on the verge of nervous Prostration, couldn't stand any excitement, had to be kept quiet all the time—would bloat up and my hair all came out. I tried doctor after doctor, but they all gave me up as a hopeless case, no two agreeing as to what my trouble was. In this condition I was advised by my friends to see Doctor Powell and be examined by the X-Ray; very much against my will I consented. Alas, I cannot thank my friends too heartily, for now under the great Quaker Doctor's masterful hand, I am getting stronger every day. I eat well, sleep well and attend to all my household duties, a thing I had long given up hopes of ever doing again."

CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

Mrs. A. L. Stormer, 5225 Kincaid St., Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "For twenty years I have been a victim of Rheumatism. No one unless they have suffered the tortures of Chronic Rheumatism can understand anything about my condition. I could not go upstairs without assistance. I had tried various methods of treatment and had consulted the best Physicians, only to meet with failure and disappointment. Having heard so much about Doctor Powell's power in treating and curing diseases, I came to his office for examination. He seemed to grasp the situation at once and I felt that he was a thorough master of his subject. In a few weeks my pain ceased and in two months I was a new woman. I could almost shout for joy, for other doctors said my case was incurable, but here I am a living example of their ignorance and Doctor Powell's skill."

HE WAS DEAF.

Mr. James Houston, 336 West Chestnut St., Washington, Pa., says: "My hearing began to gradually fail about 25 years ago; finally it became so bad that people had to shout to me in order to make me hear. My condition was so deplorable that life became almost unbearable. I concluded that I was doomed to remain deaf and that there was no hope for me. Having heard about Doctor Powell's wonderful discovery for the cure of deafness, I concluded to place myself under his care; today, strange as it may seem, I can hear a clock tick five or six feet away. I can assure you I shall never cease sounding the Good Quaker's praises."

A PHYSICAL WRECK.

Mrs. A. Panamen, 226½ Omega St., Pittsburgh, says: "For three years I had been a physical wreck; my nervous system was shattered; I had Fits in their worst form; my stomach troubled me; I had distressing pains in my head; my eyesight failed; at times I could not walk. I tried the best physicians in New York city, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, without getting any relief. They all said the complications were such that I could not get well. As a last resort I tried Doctor Powell's treatment; in three weeks' time I began to improve and have gained steadily ever since. I now eat and sleep well and attend to my household duties, in fact, I feel like a new woman and life is worth living once more."

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Mr. J. H. McCurdy, Wholesale and Retail Fruit Dealer, Latrobe, Pa., when asked what he thought of Doctor Powell's treatment, said: "I consider it my duty and pleasure to tell what Doctor Powell has done for me. For seven years I was troubled with Nervous Debility and Rheumatism. Night after night I would have to walk the floor to get any relief the pain in my side was so acute; I couldn't lie down and sleep. I had doctored without receiving any benefit until I was discouraged. While at the Hot Springs I read Doctor Powell's advertisement in the paper, and I grasped it as a drowning man will grasp a straw. After taking one month's treatment I was able to go to work. Today I consider myself a new man; I eat well, sleep well and do not get fatigued."

BI-CHEMIC TREATMENT.

The different tissues of the body are made up of minute cells, and when these cells become disarranged for the lack of proper nutriment, disease is the result. By supplying the proper nutriment to the diseased cells, perfect health can be obtained. All diseases, no matter how chronic, can be cured by bringing the cells back to their normal condition. The treatment used by Doctor Powell is not allopathic nor homeopathic. It is a treatment based upon an exact science, and cures with the certainty of a fixed law.

THOSE LIVING AT A DISTANCE

Persons living at a distance are requested to write, describing symptoms of their case in detail, and Doctor Powell will forward literature and give advice free of charge.
